YOUNG PIANIST IN MUNICIPAL CONCERT

Gary Graffman, who will be presented here on January 31, to the members of the Crockett Municipal Concert association, is a young pianist in the great tradition. Bearer of many significant honors, he is already well launched on a career which began with his first public appearance at the age of eight with the Philadelphia symphonies.

He made his formal debut at ten with the Lodi-Symphony orchestra under Fabian Seitzky, and at twelve gave his first Town Hall recital in New York.

Since then many cherished honors have been bestowed on this young pianist—only winner of the Rachmaninoff Fund Piano contest in 1940; which virtually secured the country for the United States' best young musician. In September, 1949, he won the Leventritt contest, and his award was given to him with such outstanding conductors as Leonard Bernstein, William Steinberg and George Szell.

With each of these, the versatile young pianist played a different work—in New York, the Brahms Piano Concerto No. 1 in D Minor; the Chopin Concerto No. 1 in F Minor in Buffalo and the Beethoven Concerto No. 3 in C Minor in Cleveland.
