Dorothy Vivian Ryan and Charles Everett Tipton.

Joe Eddie Johnson and Verna Evelyn Purvis.

Roscoe Lee Simms and Catharine Russell.

Think Ye of Tomorrow.

They shall justify each other in the streets and on the byways; each of the other's steeple, chariot, and each assuming superiority, shall cry out, "Behold, how fine is my horseless chariot." Thinking only of himself, he shall forget how good the Lord and the people have been to him. When he was in want, he was humble; but when he is riding high-and-wild, he is exceedingly grateful. Of such is the land overflowing, even unto its road houses. While they prosper today, tomorrow it may not be so.

The Other Way.

Friend: Professor, I hear your wife presented you with twins. Boys or girls?

Prof.: Well, I believe one is a girl and one a boy—but it may be the other way around.—Texas Utility News.

The Inland Waterways corporation, the government barge line agency, again operated at a deficit in the fiscal year 1950, according to its annual report which became available last week.

The consolidated net deficit was $731,659.89, compared with a consolidated net deficit of $1,000,000.26 in the preceding fiscal year.

Morton Bigger Dies After Brief Illness.

Dallas News.

Morton Bigger, one of the south-west's widely known life insurance figures, died at Baylor Hospital Friday after a brief illness.

Son of the late A. C. Bigger, first president of the Dallas Community Chest and president of the Metropolitan Building & Loan Association, Bigger had followed his father in civic undertakings.

Graduate of Southern Methodist University, where he played on football and basketball teams, Bigger served as president of Brook Hollow Golf Club in 1938. He was a former officer and director of the Seafarers Club and was a director of the Metropolitan Building & Loan Association at the time of his death.

Bigger compiled one of the outstanding sales records of the south-west as a representative of Southwestern Life Insurance Company.

Since 1948 he had qualified annually for the Million Dollar Round Table—producing more than $1,000,000 in new insurance business each year. He was a member of the honor group of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

He was a member of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, Kappa Alpha fraternity, Idlewild Club, Terpal Club and was a director of the Metropolitan Building & Loan Association at the time of his death.
