SHOCKING RFC REPORT

The subcommittee headed by Senator William Fulbright, of Arkansas, has taken the lid off the RFC and the resulting stench is not only maddening but sickening.

The trail which the investigators for the senate committee have followed leads from the corporation to the White House and the Democratic National committee. It also includes an interlocking band of "smart boys" who appear to have the inside track with at least two if not more of the RFC directors.

The principal thing that appears to need explanation is why Donald Dawson, aide to the president, exercised such a hypnotic influence over the RFC board of directors, which he led under which the RFC operates places control in the directors. It says nothing about White House intervention.

It would also be interesting to know why it was that the two directors whom the Fulbright subcommittee had the greatest doubts were the ones that President Truman selected for reappointment while the two that were evidently not subservient to Mr. Dawson were not kept.

But apparently all of this is not all. With the director of the RFC after Mr. Dawson was moved from corporation personnel man to the White House as one of President Truman's assistants. An ex-congressman figures in the unruly record of recent operations. A Washington lawyer named Rosenbaum boasted, according to sworn testimony, of having two directors of the RFC in his hip pocket. Rex Jacobs, who it was testified, had a hand in getting Walter E. Dunham of Detroit, named to the RFC board is another of the shadowy figures the committee found. E. Merle Young, husband of a presidential stenographer, received a $100,000 salary from the government in 1949 as defense messenger in the general accounting office. After a few years' service in the army he was transferred to the RFC. Then, last year, at RFC, he was hired at $18,000 a year. In his 1950 income tax return he estimated that he would make $40,000. Several witnesses testified that Young peddled RFC influence or attempted to do so. James C. Windham, former assistant of George E. Allen, White House down in two of the committee report.

"These friends," said the Fulbright report, "with others constitute a group who appear to have exercised influence over the RFC."

OUR BOASTED FREEDOM

There is no law to make a man stay on the job if he wants to quit. That would be slavery. But if he doesn't want to work, he shouldn't want to keep some one else off of the job. If he wants the job, we boast of our freedom, yet we permit mobs to keep other men from working, and call it legitimate if the strike is authorized by the head of the organization. When mob violence is legitimate it is when it is authorized by its leader. If he does not agree with the head of the organization, he has no right to honestly earn his bread by the sweat of his brow. That is a denial of the right vouchsafed by the constitution. It is the denial of a man's freedom to join or not to join, as he thinks best.

FRIGHTENED BY WASHINGTON.

A Wall Street Journal editorial tells of a client of the editor who recently bought a new furnace. He didn't need it now—the old one would have lasted through this winter and possibly the next. Also, he was asked why he didn't postpone the purchase. The paper reports: "He said he was frightened by the government. For all he knows, when the normal replacement time

A. B. CONNER

One day in 1909, A. B. Conner held in the palm of his hand all of the Sudan grass seed that existed in the United States. In search of new forage crops, the United States Department of Agriculture had imported seed of this Sudan grass from Africa. Mr. Conner, superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station's station at Chillicothe, was entrusted with the previous package of seed with the job of trying it out and seeing if it improved upon the native Sudan grass. He was successful. The Sudan grass seed he now produces in Texas and other states is a valuable forage crop in the nation. Mr. Conner, a long and distinguished career with the research branch of the Texas A. and M. College System, served as superintendent of the Texas A. and M. College System's station at Chillicothe, and later as director of the state-wide experiment station, now known as the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. He is now a major role in Texas agriculture.

PLANS OF SOCIALISTS

For a number of years now there has been a trend toward transformation of the world. More and more authority is being turned to Washington. This is somewhat in keeping with the world. Many of the large nations now have totalitarian or socialist forms of government, under which the lives of the people are controlled and regulated to a high degree from a central point. Even in England, where for centuries men have laid down their lives to protect the liberty of the individual and the home; the government has become totalitarian, and many of the freedoms that Englishmen fought and died for have vanished.

Here in our country an organized electric cooking means just flicking a switch, setting an automatic timing device and going about your other household duties. Thermostatic temperature controls maintain the exact degree of heat called for. This means tasty cookbooks results every time!

group is trying to socialize America. Their plan is to take over, one by one, the basic industries of the nation. Once they do that, they know they will be able to control, in a large degree, the very lives of the people. Now, of course, this group does not say that they are trying to make a socialist nation out of the United States; they keep that in the background just as much as possible. They talk about other things—food, clothing, housing, education, and so on. They try to use all these things as a bait to get the people to slip into their plans and schemes. If they are successful, however, in carrying out their schemes, the United States will become a socialist nation, and the freedoms that we have enjoyed and still enjoy in a democratic society will disappear. Picture of a mother cooking dinner on her new ELECTRIC RANGE!

This wise mother is, indeed, cooking dinner... soup, roast, two vegetables, rolls and pie. Meanwhile, she's relaxed and enjoying herself, baby's happy, and father's on his way home to a delicious, piping-hot meal.

All thanks to her wonder-working electric range.

Electric cooking means just flicking a switch, setting an automatic timing device and going about your other household duties. Thermostatic temperature controls maintain the exact degree of heat called for. This means tasty cookbooks results every time!

Too, electric cooking is faster, cleaner, safer, and more economical. More reasons why you'll find mother and baby doing fine in the homes with new electric ranges.

ASSISTANCE FOR YOUR INCOME TAX RETURNS

Dallas 1, Texas, February 9, 1951.

Crockett Courier, Crockett, Texas.

Gentlemen:

The preparation of individual income tax returns for the year 1950 usually presents some problem to the average citizen with which assistance is desired. For this reason, a deputy collector of internal revenue will visit your city to assist your citizens with their income tax problems.

Existing laws do not impose this duty upon us or our employees, but we desire to assist wherever possible, to the extent permitted by available personnel. The deputy collector's advice and assistance is extended purely as a courtesy and without cost to any citizen.

It is respectfully requested that you give the deputy collector a visit to your city as much publicity as possible, since your citizens will benefit in proportion to the number having knowledge of his visit.

Deputy Collector C. A. Gordon will be at the justice of peace office, Crockett, Texas, on February 27 and 28, 1951, from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. to render assistance with income tax problems to any who desire it. This will be the only visit that can be made to your city for this purpose before March 15, 1951.

Very truly yours,

Ellis Campbell, Jr.,
Collector of Internal Revenue.
