A pleasant surprise came when (as the pledges stood in a circle to receive their pins) Mr. Edmonson walked up to have the honor of pinning the Sigma Chi pin on his son, Frank; the son not having known that his parents were present, nor that his father would be present in this impressive little gesture of making Frank no longer a pledge, but a member of the Sigma Chi Fraternity. PUNY WOOD ON
LEGISLATION AT AUSTIN

February 24, 1951.

The legislature celebrated George Washington's birthday this week by aligning with thirty-two other states in adopting a bill to ratify the 22nd amendment to the Federal constitution.

This amendment will limit the term of office of the president of the United States to two terms. As we all know, this was strongly advocated by George Washington, when he refused to run for a third term. It was very appropriate that the Texas legislature should act on his birthday. This constitutional amendment looks like approval of three state legislatures to have the necessary three-fourths majority to become law.

It may be appropriate to mention here that there is quite a contrast in adopting an amendment to the federal constitution and state constitution. As I mentioned previously, an amendment to the state constitution must be passed by both houses of the state legislature and referred to the people for a direct vote on the amendment. Whereas an amendment to the federal constitution must be passed out of congress by a two-thirds majority, and then may be referred to various state legislatures for their approval, or by a convention called for that purpose in the states. Either method it must get the approval of three-fourths of the states. The convention system is nearer the direct referendum method, as the people get to vote directly on the question. The 21st amendment is the only amendment ratified by this method. The federal constitutional amendment may originate from demand from the people also, not necessarily from congress. This may be done by a petition of three-fourths of various states to the congress to call a national convention for this purpose.

The biggest question before the house this week was re-districting. I thought the proposed district of Walker and Houston was satisfactory to everyone. However, since the passage of the bill, I have heard from some who express their dissatisfaction. Several weeks ago I explained this proposed legislation in one of my reports, and invited the advice and comment of any and every one, as it is my duty and desire to do the wishes and work in the interest of the people of Houston county. An effort to amend the bill on its final passage by the representatives from Trinity and Walker counties and myself was unsuccessful, as the bill passed with an over-powering majority.

There is a proposal coming before the house to create a market news service in east Texas, to keep the people of that area informed on the general market conditions of those products that are produced in east Texas. This service would make use of all my reports, and invite the advice and comment of any and every one, as it is my duty and desire to do the wishes and work in the interest of the people of Houston county. An effort to amend the bill on its final passage by the representatives from Trinity and Walker counties and myself was unsuccessful, as the bill passed with an over-powering majority.

Several weeks ago 1 explained this proposed legislation in one of my reports, and invited the advice and comment of any and every one, as it is my duty an desire to do the wishes and work in the interest of the people of Houston county. An effort to amend the bill on its final passage by the representatives from

There is a proposal coming before the house to create a market" news service.in east Texas, to keep the people of-that area informed on the [genofal] [uncertain] market conditions of those products that are produced in cast Texas. This service would make use of all medias of communication and would have information direct from the major distribution, buying and marketing centers of the United States, This appears to me to be a good idea, and I think that it would prove to be valuable to those smaller farmers who have to sell their products on a fluctuating market. Having lived in a farm areca all my life, T think that [E] [uncertain] can nice its value.
