EDITOR TAKES TRIP
SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Courier editor takes woodland rambles. He drove to Lufkin and back Sunday afternoon for no other reason than viewing the wooded mountains. The trees were grand in their stateliness, especially through the National Forest, east of Crockett, around Ratcliff lake and through the same preserve that borders the New York street. The editor had heard that you might, perhaps, see a deer in the same preserve. He saw several deer in both Lufkin and Crockett, but he saw no deer in the game preserve. The deer were in Crockett to Lufkin in a wonderful trip any time, and it is just as enjoyable returning as it is going.

BULLDOGS BLANK
HUNTSVILLE 11-0

The Crockett High Bulldogs, with W. T. Houshka allowing only one hit, shut out the Huntsville High Hornets at City Park Tuesday afternoon 11 to 0. Morris Major was fairly effective for the visitors, getting only four runs in five innings, but Burgess took over in the sixth. Houshka pitched him with a triple. Burgess' inning was over Crockett had three hits (two by Houshka), a walk and seven big runs, due to faulty Houshka fielding. Houshka was credited with three walks and hitting one better. Houshka was awarded eleven strikeouts.

Huntsville was scheduled to play a postponed game with Trinity Wednesday afternoon and if successful as expected, will meet Crockett on the Huntsville diamond this (Thursday) afternoon in a one-game play-off for honors in the east division of district 20A. The division winner will start a series either Friday or Saturday with the west division title, probably Houshka, for the district championship.
