SMITH-MURCHISON LOSES HARD GAMES

The Smith-Murchison Hardware football team lost two hard games on the local diamond last week. On Tuesday night they dropped a 10 to 0 defeat to the Red Hatters of Trinity. This game was close and interesting, in fact tied at 3-3 until the seventh inning when the Smith-Murchison pitcher, W. H. Holcomb, weakened and his support collapsed. Thursday night Holcomb locked one out of winning a 1 to 0 victory over Missouri Pacific of Palestine, but the visitors got the tying run in the seventh and went on to win an 8 to 5 verdict in 10 innings. With the score tied at 3-3 in the tenth, Palestine rallied for five markers and Crockett could manage only two in the last half inning against Gates, clever. McFarland, who has a wildered left arm. Gates started at bat, collecting three of the visitors' seven base hits.

CITY OF PECAN TREES WAS NAMED FOR A PATRIOT

By G. C. Springfield, Special Writer in Houston Chronicle. It was August, 1915, a frightfully hot, and these names of Crockett had a terrible lunacy. He lay in his room at home, waiting for the doctors to begin operating. The nurse walked in. "It is Friday the 13th," she said to the suffering man. He nodded. Not alarmed at the reminder. "It is also the anniversary of your father's death," she added. Despite his discomfort, Mr. Nunn got mad. "What are you trying to do? Scare me to death? If you're going to save my life, tell them to get in here and go to work."

The nurse said, "Well, the doctors just wanted me to tell you that. Let's get going," said Mr. Nunn. The operation was a success, although the patient's family died. Six weeks later, when Dr. W. C. Lipecomb suggested to the nurse that she try to get Mr. Nunn on his feet. She tried. Days collapsed. It cost him $35, for he had promised the nurse a handsome bonus if he could get Dr. Lipecomb to laugh. It happened in this manner.

Dr. Lipecomb's nurse noted the nurse's remarks on the patient's chart about his being "unable to stand." He and the nurse talked about it and as he left, Dr. Lipecomb tried to her the reason for the collapse.

"Verget," he said. "Where'd he get?" she asked, misunderstanding what the doctor said. "Why he didn't go anywhere, just collapsed on my arms," she replied. At that, the doctor whipped and Mr. Nunn was forced to pay off.

Today, Mr. Nunn, former district attorney and now an abstractor, is regarded as a fixture around Crockett. There are about the year trees Crockett is called the "City of Pecan Trees," for there are over 10,000 of them planted inside the city limits.

It began 25 years ago when Col. W. D. Page, livestock inspector, B. B. Stokes, A. L. Lantry and Moss Brumberg were having a lull. China berry trees, "Tall and the olive."

Colonel Page, a pioneer Texas newspaperman, made this suggestion: "Let's start a movement to replace these character trees with pecans. They'll give the name of shade and be useful, besides."

Anybody you desire in Crockett you can see the result of the movement. The man planted up 10,000 worth of pecans out of his yard this past year. Crockett also grows pretty close to giving Texas its name, for the Texas Indians, from whom the state got the name of Texas, lived only 15 miles away on the Neches river.

The city was named in honor of Harry Crockett, whose mother was "Be sure you're right, then go ahead," who died in the Alamo, certain that he was right.

The city's first tree was from the same tree that was planted in 1824 and was incorporated in the year 1924 by the Legislature of Texas. It is a tree of peace and good will.

Harvey Crockett, the first tree, was planted in a residence owned by Mrs. B. J. Crockett and her husband, Harry Crockett, and his wife, Mrs. B. J. Crockett.

After its return in 1839 year old.

LOVELADY JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

The Lovelady Junior-Senior banquet, carrying out a "Wishing Well" and garden theme, was held in the gym Thursday night, April 28. There were about 55 guests served by sophomore girls, under the sponsorship of Miss Hawkins. Juniors were hosts and presented the program. Tommy Jones made an excellent toastmaster and introduced the speakers as follows: Buddy Crockett, Harry Trip-Wanda McManis, Betty Arnold and Ann McCulloch; Leave We Have Raked-Joe Lynn; Delia's Rake We Have Planted-Madden Robinson, and The Garden-Mr. White.

The menu consisted of punch, fried chicken, cream potatoes, English peas, pea-pow, salad, rolls, strawberry mousse, ice, mints and nuts.

The program was concluded by singing "Alma Mater," thus giving aid and note for some of the seniors to an otherwise gay occasion.
