STUBBLEFIELD

[4] [uncertain] Editor Courier;

As home-coming at Stubblefield [Rios] [uncertain] draws pear 1 just wonder how many know just when and where it began. All things have beginning, and at first it began as [0] [uncertain] little log [echool] [uncertain] house years ago. Near Drushy [Creek] [uncertain] on little bill south of the creek in what was the Wyatt Stubblefield land, we my [earlicat] [uncertain] recollection was [golng] [uncertain] to school at the Little log school house, [tes] [uncertain] taught by Miss Emma [Thompson,] [uncertain] slater of Uncle Tommie [Thompeson,+] [uncertain] There are [onty] [uncertain] a few left now who went to Miss [Emma,] [uncertain] Hal Steed and! Marvin Steve Stubblefield, Hopple: Garriaun Steed, wife of Hal, and your scribe, Mrs. Lizrle Poole Parrish. All are gone ob.

Early in 1844 a new school house [5%.] [uncertain] was built far from Mr. [Wyatt] [uncertain] Btubbieficdts [uncertain] house, and it was called sw Cochino Grove school. More now were coming to school and it was) nearer the community center c had only about five months school! during the year, three in winter and!

two In summer. The Payne sisters.

were some of our early teachers there and were unexcelled. Now before that, [thme] [uncertain] they had preaching once in awhile at our little log school house, and once I remember a Mr. Campbell who preached at a little log house on Mr.

[Stubblafields] [uncertain] place. After the school house was built near Mr.

Stubblefields home often there was preaching, [gome] [uncertain] by a Mr. Jones and Mr. J. A.

Simmons, both good old [rospel] [uncertain] preachers. Then [iff] [uncertain] 1894 the school house was moved to what [ils] [uncertain] now A.

D. Durhams place near Armstrong

Creek. They had preaching all along in it but no church was organized.

A [fow yoarr] [uncertain] later the school house was [moveed] [uncertain] again on Hirom Linder- mans place. Then in 1910, I [thisk] [uncertain] it was, a new school house was [bullt] [uncertain] and which now stands. Hirom Lin- [derman] [uncertain] bought it when Stubblefield consolidated with Kennard. But for a few years they head church regular- ly in this [achool] [uncertain] house and then the people got together and built a church across the branch from the school!

house, The first did not stand but a few years and was burned down then another was built and it [alse] [uncertain] was burned. The people put up an- other one not so good, but it [stil] [uncertain] stands, The school was called Stub [blefield] [uncertain] after it was moved from Mr [Stubbiefields] [uncertain] place.

MISS NELDA it

[Miss] [uncertain] Nelda Jean Milliken, bride- elect, was honored at a party [Tuesday] [uncertain] afternoon, July 12, at the Bruton home. Members of the Lovelady

[Rosding] [uncertain] Club were [guasta,] [uncertain] with Mrs J.W. T. Bruton Jr and Mrs L.P. Smith as hostesses. Mrs [IL.] [uncertain] H. Monzingo was in charge [lof] [uncertain] the program, and the honoree was presented with a lovely corsage of pink carnations, gift from the hostesses. Then [cach gucet] [uncertain] gave a clever bit [lof advire] [uncertain] on how to manage husband, which the bride-to-be pretended ito gladly accept

The musical part of the program included a piano solo by Misa Ruth Word, after which Miss Sandre Stan- mel sang Blae Bird of Happiness."

Mrs. Monzingo, on behalf of the club, presented the honoree with cook book, which also contained [rholecce] [uncertain] and favorite recipes of each member [jof] [uncertain] the club, with their autographs. Following gracious expression of thanks by Miss Milliken, the guests were invited into the dining room where the refreshment table was de- located with a bride standing binder le cluster of wedding bells, held by a huge bow of pink ribbon.

Miss [Callies] [uncertain] Fay Milliken presided at the punch bowl when a [deasert] [uncertain] course and punch was served.

Miss Roth Word played during the refreshment hour. The color scheme of pink and white decorated the home by the use of pink radiance roses and white crepe myrtle Hudsons Gel-to-Gether.

Sixty-nine members of J. C. [Hudomons] [uncertain] family, representing four gen- legations, had big [reunlon] [uncertain] dinner in Timpson [Sunday] [uncertain] to [ceicbrate] [uncertain] the [GOth] [uncertain] birthday of Mr. Hudsons mother, Mre r.i Lillie Hudson. The family gathered from San [Antonio,] [uncertain] Jacksonville, Hendderson, Paris and other Texas cities [They] [uncertain] make this birthday celebration than annual reunion affair.

CONVICTIONS IN HOUSTON [COUNTY] [uncertain] DISTRICT COURT!

Daniel Ray Lout, the young while man who had been in the [Iousten!:] [uncertain] county jail since June 13 on a check forgery charge, was convicted by the jury Wedneaday afternoon and given two [yeraa] [uncertain] in the penitentiary." Two members of the Crockett bar were appointed to defend [him—J.] [uncertain] H, Humpbreys and Dan Julian Jr. He [wae] [uncertain] prosecuted by [District] [uncertain] Attorney Jobn Dowdy. Coming to trial [withho] [uncertain] at. [torney lorepresent] [uncertain] him, Judge Vv. M. Johnston appointed the two Crockett lawyers.

Three convicts were tried in the [Hoaton] [uncertain] county district court Wednesday evening and night. Brought from the convict farm, their names were James Henry Mitchell, Leonard Leroy

Moore and Joe Miles Ward, all young white men. The three men were charged with automobile theft. They waived the [appaintment] [uncertain] of defense lawyers, and Leonard Leroy Moore assumed the defense of all three. The first two, James Henry Mitchell and Leonard Leroy [Moure,] [uncertain] received [ver] [uncertain] [dict] [uncertain] from the jury as habitual erim-finale and were given life terms in the penitentiary, The third prisoner,
