HOLD EVERYTHING.

This bill to pass out federal money for the public schools is a fair way to set the whole country by the ears. It is time for church people and non-church people to back off and cool down. And it is time for school people to realize that the passage of the bill will mean untold trouble for the schools, no matter in what form the bill may be enacted.

The columnist is of the opinion that there is such a thing as making too much for the younger that he loses all occasion for doing anything at all for himself. Of course, the columnist never was properly educated. Why? He went all the way through the grades on up through what would now be called high school and never saw a toothbrush drill in his whole life. Imagine that—Lynn Landrum.

STOP AND THINK.

A system of all-weather rural roads means more than just convenience to the producer and marketing of our food and fiber. They mean a better mail service, better medical care, better educational opportunities, better land use and conservation, a chance to develop the social, cultural and Christian potentiality of rural areas.

Women now find 2-way

help for old problem

What to do for woman's oldest problem, functional constipation? Many a girl and woman has found the answer in Carter's 2-way help. You see, Carter may make things less easier for you in either of two ways: (1) started 2 days before "your time" and taken as directed on the label, it should help relieve functional constipation; (2) taken throughout the month like a tonic, it should improve your appetite, aid digestion, and thus help build up resistance for the trying days to come. Carter is scientifically prepared and scientifically tested. If you get "all those certain times," you get Carter today.

THOS. JEFFERSON SAID.

"Farmers, whose interests are entirely agricultural, are the true representatives of the great American interest, and are alone to be relied upon for expressing the proper sentiments. Cultivators of the earth are the most virtuous, and they are the most valuable citizens. They are the most vigorous, the most independent, the most virtuous, and they are the most patriotic. They are the most patriotic, and they are the most patriotic."

WAR STILL FOUGHT
BY DAMYANKES

Ken Lind.

One of the odd things about the Civil War—or the War Between the States, if you like your euphemism well buttered—is that it is still being fought.

The drive of peace has been hovering for the last fifty years, but it has never been able to negotiate a three-point landing principally because the damyankees shoot it away.

That, of course, is not the version you hear up north. To hear them tell it all we do down here is drink corn pone in mint julep and eat General Grant.

If Lee had known that the yankees were to continue the war he never would have surrendered at Appomattox.

These two countries, the North and the South, have had some unpleasant interludes since Lee's surrender—the Spanish American War, Fenian's excursion into Mexico, the Marine Corps' brush with Nicaraguan bandits and World War I and II.

Yet the Civil War goes on, regardless of the fact that only a handful of Confederate veterans are now alive and there is not enough left of the Grand Army of the Republic to hold a convention.

DOCTOR WHO OPERATED ON HIMSELF OK

Telluride, Colo., July 26.—Dr. George C. Balderston was back at work last evening after removing his own appendix.

Sunday afternoon at the American Legion Hospital Dr. Balderston got all the proper tools together and summoned a friend, Dr. Richard Gladman.

He told Gladman to stand by in case anything went wrong.

Then, without using mirrors, Dr. Balderston slit himself open and went to work. In a sitting position he handled the entire operation on himself and after forty-five minutes the appendix was removed.

The idea of a man performing a first-hand operation on himself is a local sensation. And I wanted to study post-operative effects.

Tuesday he said he figured he'd proved patients should "get back on their feet as soon as possible after surgery."

HOME RUN LEAVES
HIM SPEECHLESS

Tyler, Texas, July 25.—A home run at a Trojan ball game left Cotton Belt Engineer J. W. Stival of Tyler speechless.

The fans cheered mightily when Outfielder Ron Harrison poked the homer over the fence last Friday night, but Stival said not a word. He couldn't; he was unconscious.

Stival was pushing his engine past Trojan Park on his way to Athens at 10:10 p. m. when Harrison connected. The ball sailed over the fence, through the window of the engineer's cab and connected with Stival's jaw.

The fireman went in as pinch hitter until Stival recovered.

More for His Money.

Fried Mildred Saturday just hauled off and complained about his shoes being too large. When he asked him why he got shoes too large, he reckoned the dealer he bought 'em from promised him for his money, and he made him stick up to it, as he allowed, by cash.

The present bill is in modified form the one begun by the judge at that time. Houston county veterans are fortunate in having so much land with the mineral rights all intact.

Judge Selman said. This amounts to a priority to some extent. The veteran may sell his mineral rights, but when he does, he must apply the sale price on payment for the land.

Bascom Giles, whose interest was enlisted in helping to block the sale of the prison lands to a large corporation in 1945, is coming to Crockett as a tribute to Judge Selman. Other notable coming are Senator Neville Colson of Nevada and Representative "Pony" Wood of Crockett, both of whom helped greatly in passing the Veterans Land bill.

Counties who are sending representatives August 9 to hear Congressman Giles' speech at 8 p. m. on the Crockett court house steps, where seating arrangements will be provided by the American Legion, are Leon, Trinity, Cherokee, Walker and Anderson.

GRAVE THREAT TO NEW DEVELOPMENT

Following an extensive study made by the Library of Congress, reclamation leaders in the west were advocating the realization that the project represents a grave threat to new developments in all other western states.

That was the statement, issued today by Ben P. Griffith, secretary of the California River association, who has been in the west for several days, making a study of the project. Griffith said, "The project is a grave threat to new developments in all other western states."

Griffith continued, "Preliminary estimates of the Bureau of Reclamation show that the project cost is $750,000,000. This is for the initial development only. Additional costs, including the 80-mile tunnel, are estimated to bring the total cost for Arizona to $1,000,000,000. Against this is the $500,000,000 that has been appropriated over an eleven-year period for all reclamation projects in western states."

In this connection, Griffith charged, that has brought expressions of concern from farmers, ranchmen, business men, and other interested parties in all western states.
