THE TKUCK PROBLEM,

The problem of how to pay for highways which are adequate to carry the huge modern commercial trucks and trailers ls being given an increase ing amount of attention by public officials, newspapers, and other [ory ganizations] [uncertain] and individuals. Tho problem is a very real one. The truckers usually argue that they pay large taxes, and that is true. However, the breakdown of our high- ae ways under the big vehicles can be

[A.] [uncertain] seen by any one with eyes. According to Governor Warren of p: [California,] [uncertain] It costs 22 per cent more to [bulld] [uncertain] highways that will stand up under truck pounding than those; [bullt] [uncertain] for private [vebiclea] [uncertain] alone." Ace [1] [uncertain] cording to Governor Duff of [Pennmone sylranis,] [uncertain] a study made in that state [Me.] [uncertain] indicates that it costs $4000 a year bes Tuaintain each mile of pavement used) by [trucks—and] [uncertain] only $350 to main-! [Maintain] [uncertain] highways over which [thre:] [uncertain] trucks du not operate.

The situation [haa] [uncertain] been further, ne? complicated by the fact that some trucker have apparently made o/policy of disregarding lcgal weight limits, and have sent their vehicles) out carrying [loada] [uncertain] which literally punier the highways. Oklahoma i) one of the states which [Is] [uncertain] acting to prevent this, [It] [uncertain] has eo law making, a possible penalties of as much al [Re veo] [uncertain] $7000 for single [offanses] [uncertain] of ross overloading.
In any event, the coat of bulking a and maintaining the highways seems; [esl] [uncertain] to have brought on severe headaches, y in moat of the [states—end] [uncertain] big trucks hes ie are largely the cause of it. The ques-: tion- which must be answered is" te whether the trucks are actually paying a fair share of the expense. A good many experts have come to the, view that the trucks [arent] [uncertain] doing) that [now—and] [uncertain] ac, as a [reault,] [uncertain] all other taxpayers and motorists are indirectly [aubsidising] [uncertain] this commer-! [lal] [uncertain] business. [FAILS] [uncertain] TO EXPLAIN. The presidents loyalty to hie; friends under [embarrassing] [uncertain] circus:

stances is touching. Unfortunately, it is exercised with a lack of judg- [ment] [uncertain] that a likely to make it [pel] [uncertain] thetic.

Mr. [Trumans] [uncertain] act as vice-preaident in [etlending] [uncertain] the funeral of Tom Pen- [dergast:] [uncertain] disgraced by a penitentiary [acnience, wna] [uncertain] a fine thing.
Doubtles had Mr. Truman been president at the time, he [wauld] [uncertain] not have heai- hated to go. Nor [sould] [uncertain] he. [PenjUergast] [uncertain] was his friend and benefactor, had mage and carried him politically had certainty made It [posaible] [uncertain] for him to go to the White House. To refuse a final token of [reapct] [uncertain] would have been rank Ingratitude.

Dut when Truman aa president carried his [léyalty] [uncertain] to [Pandergsat] [uncertain] so far aa to fire the loyal public servant who put the felon in jail, where he belonged, no excuse would be advanced,

The presidents present plea to withhold judgment on [General] [uncertain] Vaughan until all the evidence is in ta sound enough. But Mr. Truman put an unsound aspect on it by mak- Ing [It] [uncertain] in the form of a [prepatet] [uncertain] statement declining to [auhmit] [uncertain] himself to questioning. On the basle of experience, the public has every right to distrust the
