HERE FACE-SAVING GESTURE

It is difficult to see more than a face-saving gesture in the proposal made in senate committee to pay the "arms for all" bill by $100,000,000 so that the amount which would go to the signatories of the North Atlantic treaty for the purposes of rearmament would be $100,000,000.

This formula which appears to have no more to recommend it than that it is a nice round sum, is said to have been accepted by Senators Tom Connally and Millard Tydings, majority members of the joint committee considering the "arms for all" authorization. It is the administration's way of assuaging the hurt feelings of Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Republican bellwether in foreign affairs, who has given strong indications of being dissatisfied with the current trend in the alleged bipartisan foreign policy.

The elimination of $100,000,000 from the foreign aid measure is just a token gesture toward those who claim that the administration is walking blindly into a venture which may ultimately cost many more billions of dollars. It does not meet the argument that we should know what the common defense may require before we start spending money. It does not reveal why our pledge under the North Atlantic pact is not enough.

There are new developments which ought to work against the speedy appropriations of funds for European rearmament. It is now being whispered about that the real purpose of the quick money is to revitalize the armed strength of France, that little of the first authorization will be spent elsewhere.

If this is an arms race that is one thing. We are told that it is not. Then let us act in orderly fashion and wait until an orderly program can be agreed upon before adding to the burden which this country would have to assume if the "arms for all" authorization is approved either in full or with the minor cut which would seem to satisfy Senator Vandenberg.—Houston Chronicle.

DOROTHY WILLHELM
C. Y. CROMEENS
BY CANDLELIGHT

RETIRED METHODIST MINISTER PASSES

The Rev. J. E. Morgan, 78, Methodist minister for more than 35 years, died in a Corpus Christi hospital September 9 at 6:15 p. m.

He retired ten years ago and had been making his home with his daughter, Evelyn, in Uvalde for four years, in which time he had been in ill health.

At various times he served as Methodist minister at Robstown, Aransas Pass, Eagle Lake, Columbus, Devine and Kyle.

He was born and reared on a farm May 1, 1871; was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Dan Morgan of hemp, twin sister of the bride, was identical dressed and was maid of honor. She carried a bouquet of pink pom poms.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will make their home in Bryan where Mr. Cromeens is employed by the Bullock Gas Company. Mrs. Cromeens will attend McKenzie-Baldwin business college—Madisonville, Mo.

Survivors include: Dewitt Morgan of Corpus Christi; Hubert Morgan of Shreveport, La.; Reed Morgan of Hanquet, J. E. Morgan of Wichita, Kan.; Ernest of San Marcos; one daughter, Mrs. H. C. Southland of Uvalde, and 11 grandchildren. Also two sisters, Mrs. Lue Julian and Mrs. Lillie West, and one brother, Louis Morgan of Kennard; he leaves a host of other relatives and friends, who are saddened by his passing.

Mr. Morgan was married to Miss Mary Hooks of Crockett about 50 years ago, who preceded him in death four years ago.

He had a Masonic funeral, and a very beautiful floral offering.

Relatives going over for the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Morgan and son, L. T. of Kennard; Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Libby Latimer of Crockett; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morgan of Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Homer West and daughter, Bettie Roy, and husband; J. D. West of New Waverly; and Mr. and Mrs. James Hooks of Falfurrias.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Kyle at 3:30 p. m.

Interment was in the Kyle cemetery.

CADMAN CLUB SETS
OCTOBER 11 DATE
FOR "DUET NIGHT"

"Duet Night" has been listed as the first in its series of musical programs October 11 by the Cadman Club with the theme "Just for Our Amusement," announced Mrs. George Reed, program chairman. Each year the club selects some outstanding theme for its year of study and enjoyment. Music from many lands and composers of modern, popular and classical music, music of some talent and various types have occupied the club's study from season to season.

To encourage a larger number of the members to "limber up their fingers" and "tune up their voices" the program committee chose the above theme this year. Mrs. G. B. Lake is president of the club.

Plans have been made for a "Show Off" night, for a "Granny and Mommy" night, for a Christmas program and an April fool program. A musical memory night and an Apology night are others on the list. Bids will be given by the Junior Cadman club members in which they will enact their concept of what it will be like "When we grow up and join Senior Cadman Club." In the spring the joint meeting will be a popular song frolic.

Around 3:30 we all bade each other goodbye for another year—first Sunday in September.

Harve English was re-elected president; Erma English, secretary and treasurer; R. H. Jay and H. E. English on the food committee for another year.

Secretary.

ENGLISH REUNION
SEPTEMBER FOURTH

The English family met at Mr. P. M. Boone's place at Redcliff Lake for their ninth reunion on Sunday, September 4, 1949. Around 250 were present.

Jonas English of Mineola, dean of the reunion, gave a brief history of the English family that was interesting.

Mr. Boone served coffee throughout the day and at noon barbecue and plenty of other good eats were spread and thoroughly enjoyed.

Several visitors were present and we welcome them each year. Our thanks to Mr. Boone for the privilege of using his picnic grounds; also for his valued assistance in making our day pleasant and enjoyable. He is a grand host. We also appreciate Mr. R. L. Taylor's offer to use his nice lake house in case it rained. They seem to have built those lovely places for the benefit and enjoyment of their friends.

Arround 3:30 we all bade each other goodbye for another year—first Sunday in September.

Harve English was re-elected president; Erma English, secretary and treasurer; R. H. Jay and H. E. English on the food committee for another year.

Secretary.

The senate's effort to practically double the existing minimum wage is a tacit admission that the floor-underpay system has not worked. If adopted now, it is only a matter of time before the rate will have to be doubled again.

SEARCH FOR THE ARK,

Few [expeditions] [uncertain] have so appealed to the imagination as the one that has been moving up Mount Ararat for the past week. The five Americans who are making the laborious ascent are doing what many men have dreamed of doing for many [centuries—seeking] [uncertain] to determine if Noah's ark, or [it] [uncertain] remains, is lodged high up on the Anatolian peak.

The Book of Genesis says that the ark rested upon the mountains of Ararat. That was a long time [ago.] [uncertain] A boat might well have disintegrated until no trace of it could be found.

The sponsors of the expedition believe they have good evidence the ark is [still] [uncertain] there. A Russian aviator declared [uncertain] in 1916 that he had [seen] [uncertain] it.
