DAVY CROCKETT
TRINITY COUNTY
SOIL CONSERVATION

Cover crop planting is going on over the entire district at a fast rate in spite of the recent rainy weather. Many farmers have finished gathering their crops and are planting winter legumes as fast as they can prepare their land.

Ruth Taylor is planting 10 acres of hairy vetch and oats on his farm northeast of Crockett. He is going to follow up by rotating some land from row crop cultivation and planting legumes for hay and grazing.

Albert Durham has a good "crop of green" showing on his dairy farm northeast of Crockett. This is a mixture of hairy vetch and oats that will be used for winter grazing and soil improvement.

W. H. Long, Woodrow Patrick, J. D. Patrick, Clayton Moorhead, C. F. Shumper, John Spinks, D. F. Youngblood and Mark Shipp are among the many farmers around Purter Springs who are planting Singularity peas and oats in mixture for pasture improvement, winter grazing and seed production.

A coordinate conservation and improvement plan is being prepared on 200 acres of farm land owned by the Mary Allen College for negroes. The college has an extensive program on dairy cattle, hogs and poultry and are trying to fit their farming enterprises to best support these livestock enterprises. Temporary and permanent pastures, grain crops and permanent hay meadows will be the major land use that the farm will be devoted to. Terracing, summer and winter temporary grazing crops, winter cover crops, contour cultivation, pasture mowing, fertilizing and seeding will be the conservation measures used to improve and maintain their farm land.

Conservation Sam Ser: "The next 30 days is the last chance to plant cover crops. Get them in as fast as possible!"

LIONS HEAR ABOUT
GIRL SCOUTING
BY MARTHA SPIDLE

Crockett Lions continued at their Tuesday luncheon program directed by Lions W. F. Churchill and Joe Worley their usual theme of backing the youth of the city when they had as their guests to provide the program Girl Scout groups under the sponsorship of Mrs. E. L. Greene.

Several novelty numbers were given by the smaller children and a talk on the value of scouting to girls was given by Martha Spidle, one of the young lady scouts who have enjoyed camp life, day camp and trip camp by the Girl Scout organization.

Lion Worley showed two films, one in color, of the Lions' Monstrous Parade when marching in the parade of the city when they had as their guests to provide the program Girl Scout groups under the sponsorship of Mrs. E. L. Greene.

Emphasis by Lion President Harvey Joyce was made on closing stores at 4 o'clock and making the trip to Huntsville by bus and car for the Bull Dog-Hornet football game Friday night.

GIANT PEP RALLY
WILL BE STAGED
IN HUNTSVILLE

Notice are being posted and the word has been passed along that all who plan to go to Huntsville to the Bull Dog-Hornet football game Friday night, let some one go with them. If there is any vacant seat in the car, it should be filled by another fan.

Plans are made to close up all places of business in Crockett promptly at 4 p. m. Friday and all take the road for a giant pep rally on the court house square of the city.

Gene Autry Comes to Town

Huntsville at 7:15 o'clock.

No fewer than 1500 Crockett citizens should be on those buses and in cars and on the way to that pep rally," was the announcement. "With a predicted score of 12 to 6 in favor of the Bulldogs, every loyal person will want to be there to see that good game."

TIME OF YEAR FOR THIS COLD WEATHER

The cold wave was a little late in reaching Crockett, but it reached. Forecast for the end of the week, it got here Sunday night. The thermometer is reported to have stood at 39 degrees above zero Monday morning, which is seven degrees above freezing. Inasmuch as the second morning is said to always be the coldest, it will likely be colder Tuesday morning. About a year ago, according to the Courier published a year ago, Houston county got its first frost of the winter season.

Several colored school children, en route to school in Crockett, on a school bus from Wheeler Springs and Salt Branch, were made ill by carbon monoxide fumes Monday morning. The children were given treatment at a local hospital and released. The cold morning resulted in the bus being tightly closed, and the fumes leaked into the vehicle.

Central Baptist Church.

Rev. J. D. Fuller announces the program for Sunday, November 6:

Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.

Preaching by pastor at 11; subject, "Too Much Religion and Not Enough of Grace."

Training Union, 6:30 p. m.

Barren, by pastor, 7:30 p. m.

The congregation is increasing and you will be cordially welcomed, says Rev. Fuller, the pastor.

Living in Topeka.

Mr. and Mrs. Woody Sims accompanied their daughter, Mrs. Don Bourland, to Topeka, Kansas, Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Barton and children of Fort Worth made the trip with them. Mr. and Mrs. Bourland are now making their home in Topeka, where Mr. Bourland has opened a new office for the Orla Exterminating Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Butler and Mrs. W. H. Poe were Tyler visitors Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McGeeaux left Monday for a two weeks' visit in Salsal.

Florida of Mrs. Jasper Driskell and Mrs. E. W. Muenker are glad to know they returned home last week from a Crockett hospital, following major operations
