PUBLISHER'S NOTICE

In case of errors or omissions in legal or other advertisements, the publishers do not hold themselves liable for damages, further than the amount received by them for such advertisement. Advertising is accepted only on this basis.

Any person reflecting on the character, standing or credit of a person, firm or corporation, who may appear in the columns of the Courier will be held personally responsible for the payment of the bill.

The Crockett Courier invites communications for publication when subject is of general interest, and if letter is not abusive or of a personal nature, but all such communications must carry author's signature.

All unsolicited manuscripts, letters and pictures are sent at the risk of the owner.

Obituaries, resolutions, eulogies and other matter not "news," will be charged for at the rate of 20¢ per line.

Parties ordering advertising or printing for societies, churches, unions, military or organizations of any kind will, in all cases, be held personally responsible for the payment of the bill.

PARTY LABELS LOST

No very distinct line between victory or loss can be traced for either party through the Tuesday congressional elections. The Democrats claim to control of Congress in the name of the party. The opposition Republicans can stress their gains. The solid heart of thinking American can rely for protection of his way of life on the obvious presence of constructive strength in Congress opposed to selling out the nation with political bribes.

The country faced the Tuesday election with a war on its hands and an inflation situation mounting daily with resulting penny on penny famines. The country has apparently been deeply impressed by Red infiltration, which it rightly fears. The single valid deduction that can be made from the election returns, checkered across the nation with upsets, is that in the main voters discarded the more questionable label and tried to elect men they thought could and would solve our problems nationally.

It is true, of course, that the party label played a more important part.

In Education - 1874-1951

Our first state college - Texas A. and M. is now in its seventy-fifth year

J. C. NAGLE

Much of the credit for taking Texas out of the mire of the horridly long day and developing the vast network of highways which were affectionately known to generations of students at the A. and M. College of Texas as "Dean Nagle's Road," goes to the late Dean J. C. Nagle. He came to A. and M. as an assistant professor of Civil Engineering in 1902, two years after the first studies in road building had been pioneered at this school. An head of this department from 1904 until 1913 and again from 1917 until 1922, he developed the technical division of highway engineering which would give influence to the development of Texas highways. He also served as Dean of Engineering and Director of Texas Engineering Experiment Station during the 1917-22 period, when much of the pioneering of Texas road development was done by these agencies. On the groundswork he laid, two of the three members of the Texas Highway Commission, the state highway engineer, half of the state highway department's district engineers and a third of all its professional engineers are A. and M. graduates.

WHAT IS AMERICA?

America means far more than a continent bounded by two oceans. It is more than pride of military power, glory in war or in victory. It means more than vast expanse of farms, great factories or mines, magnificent cities, or millions of automobiles and radios. It is more even than the traditions of the great tide westward from Europe which pioneered the continent. It is more than our literature, our music, our poetry. Other nations have these things also. Maybe the intangible we cannot describe lies in the personal experience and the living of each of us rather than in phrase, however noble, or in the meaning of our word "America" flows from one pure spring. The soul of our America is its freedom of mind and spirit in man. Here alone are the open windows through which pours the sunlight of the human spirit. Here alone is human dignity not a dream, but an accomplishment.

Parker asked for a legal opinion from William C. Lassiter, attorney for the North Carolina Press Association. Mr.

Lassiter quoted his own reply to another publisher who had brought up a similar case, as follows:

[You] [uncertain] recently requested my opinion and advice concerning the problem raised by the following [faats:] [uncertain] A local merchant places certain [J] [uncertain] advertising with a semi-weekly news- [Paper] [uncertain] in North Carolina in" which nationally known products are ad- [vertised. the manufacturer] [uncertain] or dis- [tributor] [uncertain] of the particular products agrees with the local merchant for a specified percentage of the adver- [tising] [uncertain] cost for publishing such ad- [vertisements.] [uncertain] Since the advertise- [ment] [uncertain] is placed by a local merchant the local advertising rate, less than the foreign" rate, is charged for the national advertising. The bill of the newspaper is paid by the local merchant at the local rate. The local merchant has requested the said newspaper to furnish a statement or bill covering this same advertising but showing the national advertising rate of the newspaper rather than the local rate at which the [advertising.] [uncertain] was actually paid by the local [mer-:] [uncertain] chant. The local merchant indicates to the publisher that he proposes [to:] [uncertain] send this bill showing the higher na-! [tional] [uncertain] rate to the manufacturer [or:] [uncertain] distributor which has agreed to [par-} ticipate] [uncertain] in the advertising cost. Under this plan or-scheme the manufacturer or distributor will reimburse the" local merchant on a higher basis and-at a higher rate than that which the local merchant paid to the news- can a man be?
