Toxarkana, Texas, October [26.—The] [uncertain]

Sixth Court of Civil Appeals Thursday dissolved an injunction against the Tyler Lions Club selling pencils for!

$1 and giving with them tickets for a drawing on an auto.

Proceeds of the pencil sales were to buy glasses for underprivileged

The court lauded the motives of the Lions. But Justice I, N. Williams, who wrote the opinion, said any mem- [ber] [uncertain] who sells the pencils faces pos- [sible] [uncertain] criminal charges and is subject to being" indicted under the state gambling and lottery laws.

A district judge, issuing the tempo- [rary] [uncertain] injunction, had called the plan a lottery. The Appeals Court said it agreed ana:

The club planned to give the automobile away at its annual Halloween carnival October 31.

The court construed that the action against the Lions" Club was brought under Article 4667, which deals with gaming houses, Bawdy houses and bull rings.

RENT ON CUSHIONS FOR BUREAUCRATS

By Chicago Tribune.

Washington, October [22.—Bureaucrats] [uncertain] traveling on boats on government business formerly had to.dig into their own pockets if they.wanted to take their ease on the deck in solid comfort, but [thats] [uncertain] changed now, The federal treasury foots the bill.

The budget bureau has issued a list of amendments to government travel regulations adopted in recent years. The summary shows that government employes traveling [vin] [uncertain] ship are now permitted-to rent cushions for steamer chairs and put the price on their expense accounts. Previously they were authorized to charge off rental for deck chairs and steamer rugs only.

The travelers are reminded, however, that they had better not try to pad the expense account with steamer chairs, rugs, and cushions. The regulation states that the government will pay only customary rates actually charged."

Furthermore, government employes must not entertain any fancy ideas of luxury suites on shipboard. The only steamer fare for which the government will hold still is the lowest available first class rate.

The regulations formerly required travel by the most economical, usually traveled route," meaning that a bureaucrat en route from Washington to California on [busirfess couldnt] [uncertain] make the trip by way of Florida, but the amendment summary discloses that the most economical" requirement has been abolished. Travel by other than usual routes also is permitted, provided the traveler can prove official necessity was involved.

Government travelers are permitted under another change to hire airplanes, boats, automobiles, taxicabs, and even a horse and buggy at federal expense if they [cah] [uncertain] establish official business advantageous to the government." A related amendment gives authority for taking extra-fare planes and trains, again if it can be shown that the extra fare benefited the government in one way or another.

GRASS AND CATTLE BEST CASH CROPS FOR EAST TEXAS

Louis Bromfield in Dallas News.

One of the most encouraging signs Jin the nation has been the [increasing]] [uncertain] effort jn the Southwest and particularly in Texas to find now grasses and [Iegumes] [uncertain] that will provide [Rood] [uncertain] pas sure for livestock and that will [ré-] [uncertain] habilitate millions of acres of grazing land which have been going steadily downhill in productivity since the first white men came into the country. Most of this campaign has been [at-]] [uncertain] tended by success where a [program/] [uncertain] was not immediately followed up by overgrazing. The love and [gramma|.] [uncertain] grasses, the [bluestems,] [uncertain] some [native.]] [uncertain] and some imported and a whole [range]] [uncertain] of grasses brought from-India, Turkes- tan, South Africa and South [America]] [uncertain] have proven successful where they were given a decent chance.

Of course, Texas is an immense state with widely varying types of soil, climate and rainfall and it is necessary to find the grasses which flourish in given areas. What would prove best on the Gulf Coast with its heavy rainfall, would fail in, the Pan- handle and West Texas, and vice [versa,] [uncertain] The fact is that Texas is and always has been a vast grazing country suited more, on the whole, to grass than to [J] [uncertain] agriculture. Its production in the past was prodigious and it can be again in the future.

It should also be pointed out that Jin East Texas, grazing at a [high-] jearrying] [uncertain] production per acre can" be just as profitable as any agriculture, including cotton and corn if managed even with moderate knowledge and wisdom can be just as profitable as any cash crop operation.

A well-managed dairy farm can be much more profitable not only in the short run, but in the long, by building up the productivity and consequently the capital value of the land.

In this [connection—that] [uncertain] of grass and cattle in East Texas, the [Texas] [uncertain]

Research Foundation at Renner is doing a magnificent job of demonstra- [tion.] [uncertain] Any farmer who considers him- self worthy of the name owes [it.to'] [uncertain] himself to visit the Foundation at Renner.

There he will see what is being done with grasses and legumes, not only in the restoration of abused land, but in the high income and low costs of such a program.

There are many ways of maintaining and restoring good [grags] [uncertain] land through- out Texas. The first, perhaps, is to give the grass a chance by refusing to overgraze. It can bring itself back if given a chance to develop and seed.

The failure in most cases in not one of [fertilityi.] [uncertain] Most of the old grass- lands are still rich enough.

It is a failure of proper conditions which bring about [disaster—the] [uncertain] de- [struction] [uncertain] of mulch and organic cover represented by good turf which chokes weed and even mesquite and cedar seedling growth, which acts as an insulator to keep the ground. [benéath] [uncertain] cool and moist and so favorable [toa ich] [uncertain] growth of grass.

The problem of pasture restoration in the Southwest is almost [ontircly] [uncertain] concerned with the [olimation] [uncertain] from competition of mesquite and weeds for fertility and moisture. Sometimes on smaller [acrenge] [uncertain] this can be done simply by constant mowing of fields and this process has al double benefit. It not only eventually eradicates weeds by never permitting them to seed, but it lays down a constantly increasing mulch of organic [imaterval] [uncertain] which keeps the ground cool and/prevents evaporation of moisture.

On the mown field the temperature of tho [carth] [uncertain] was forty-seven degrees lower than on the weedy overgrazed field.
