WASHINGTON
WITH CODDLING

Robert M. Hayes in Dallas News.

Tyler, Texas, Oct. 17.—Martin Dies of Lufkin, former chairman of the house committee on un-American activities, charged Tuesday that despite Joseph Stalin's known plans for world conquest, Washington politicians coddled the Communists in the late thirties and early forties in an effort to win their votes.

"There was ample evidence that Communists were on the government payroll," he said, "and that Moscow was training Americans by the thousands for espionage work in this country."

"It was known, too, that Russia, through the Amtorg Corporation, had set aside $100,000,000 to finance an espionage program."

"But the political power of the Communists had attained in this country gave them control of millions of votes. The politicians did not want to antagonize such a large block."

Dies addressed the fall convention of the North and East Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association. He praised what he described as the common-sense administration of county governments, adding: "If congress will take its example from your practice I am quite sure America can weather the storm."

The former congressman called attention to the scorn heaped upon his committee when it undertook to uncover evidence of subversive activities.

"At the white house President Roosevelt asked me not to investigate Communists. The plain truth is that Roosevelt did not consider Communism a threat."

"I pleaded with John L. Lewis for a house cleaning in his CIO and he told me that Communists had the same rights as Methodists or Baptists to hold positions of influence."

"Our committee discovered there were 600 organizations established in this country by the Kremlin to help spread Communist doctrine. But the administration defied us and Mrs. Roosevelt accepted honorary membership in twenty of these groups."

"When asked for $100,000 to carry on the work of our committee the request was passed down to $25,000. Some of the same congressmen

ECONOMY BURDEN
CITED BY HOOVER

New York, October 19. Former President Herbert Hoover said Tuesday the United States should provide no more money or arms for the defense of Western Europe "until a definitely unified and sufficient European army is in sight."

"And yet," he continued, "those in control persisted in their determination to do business with Stalin." He said the policy of the post-war United States should be to "interfere with our internal security" was "violated before the ink was dry."

"The United States can not carry this burden alone," he asserted. "We should tell these other countries that if they want to be saved they must make some effort to save themselves."

"He thinks the days and dollars cannot long endure the present drain on our economy," he said in a speech prepared for radio delivery on the program, "One Nation Indivisible."

"And if that fails, the world goes into night."

"I pray to God," he added, "that President Truman may have the courage and vision to rise to the stature of statesmen and put his country's welfare above the next election."

TYLER JUDGE HEADS
EAST TEXAS GROUP

Tyler, October 18.—County Judge Ned Price of Tyler is the president of the North and East Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association.

The group also re-elected E. J. Kendall, Ellis county commissioner, first vice-president; named Hollis Stringer, San Augustine, second vice-president; and elected Choice Moore of Bonham secretary-treasurer. Lufkin was selected as the next convention city. Price succeeds County Judge H. R. Rolston of Lufkin.

Washington politicians in the late thirties and early forties coddled Communists in an effort to win their votes.

Dies said: "There was ample evidence that Communists were on the government payroll, and that Moscow was training Americans by the thousands for espionage work in this country."

JUST A WORD WITH OUR SUBSCRIBERS

Fifteen this week against seventeen last week—not as long this week, but just as wide. Each name in this week's list of subscriptions and renewals is appreciated just as much as if there were more of them. And if there were more of them, they would be appreciated just as much, too.

The following good subscribers will please accept the Courier's thanks for making this week's fine list possible:

MCDONALD JOINS
COTTON EXPORT
LIMIT PROTESTS

Houston Chronicle Staff.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald Tuesday added his voice to the rising thunder of protests from the cotton industry over the federal limitation of cotton exports.

"This is evidence that the federal government's restrictions of production of crops is disastrous," McDonald said.

Cotton exchanges in Houston, Dallas, Memphis and other cotton centers are lobbying Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan with protests against the limit of 2,000,000 bales allowed for export between last August 1 and next March 31.

Editor Regretted.

When the rate will go after the editor for reporting that her husband was dead when he was not, the editor writes: "We regret very much that the notice of Colonel Burley's death appearing in this paper last week was not true. His friends will regret the error."

Remember When

...it always rained on wash day

Perhaps you're still plagued by rainy wash days... still hang wet clothing on chairs or improvised lines in the kitchen or bathroom. If so, you have a real treat coming—the smart, new natural gas clothes drier. It takes a full washing machine load, tumbles it dry in less than an hour, leaves it sweet-smelling and sterile. The clothes drier is another of the wonderful conveniences you can enjoy through natural gas service. It's the answer to all-weather wash days... inexpensive to buy, easy to install, economical to operate. See the late model natural gas clothes driers today—wherever fine gas appliances are sold.

Scores of companies are in the business of producing, transporting or distributing natural gas—providing good jobs and important payrolls for thousands of men and women here in the Gulf South. Everyone you know benefits, in one way or another, from the operations of the natural gas industry.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO IN HOUSTON COUNTY

The following items are taken from the Courier files of 25 years ago this week:

Crockett voters on Tuesday rejected a $200,000 funding bond issue, 72 votes for and 460 against.

Stock law elections failed October 10, 1925, in the Creek road district No. 10 and that part of justice precinct No. 1 within commissioners' precinct No. 4.

R. P. Teal, 69, died on Friday night at his home near Pennington.

Peyton Tunstall took charge of the toll bridge at Hurricane Shoals, succeeding Joe Monk, resigned.

Edgar C. Oakley of Crockett was obtained by the Eastern Texas Presbytery at sessions in Crockett.

Speakers, seeking a full-time Red Cross nurse in Houston county, were to visit all parts of the county.

Statement of condition of the First Guaranty State Bank at Weldon, as of September 28, 1925, showed resources of $122,662.81, as sworn to by H. H. Thompson, president, and J. A. Hanner, assistant cashier, before T. S. Ivins, notary public. Directors attending were W. H. Mangum, Mrs. W. H. Mangum and L. M. Peagib, Shotwell & Moore advertised radios. FOUNDATION FOR
ANIMAL HEALTH

Austin, Texas, October 20.—Milk production in many dairy herds is going to be cut back sharply during the coming months by "winter sickness," the American Foundation for Animal Health today warned herd owners.

"When a cow suddenly refuses feed, appears dull, secretes less milk and seems badly, the owner may suspect 'winter sickness,' a foundation bulletin said.

"That if other cows in the herd rapidly develop the same symptoms, the trouble may be winter sickness, a quick-spreading infectious disease.

"Veterinarians have isolated the germ which causes the malady; it is a 'virus' organism, related to a germ which sometimes causes abortion in cattle."

"Few cows die outright from the disease. But it causes heavy setbacks in milk production, the Foundation said. Affected animals usually require a long time to return to full production. Most cases occur during the fall, winter and spring.

"Control of the disease is very difficult, even in the best managed herds. However, if action is taken soon enough, segregation of the first cows to become infected may stop its spread.

"Highly important in the condition, because winter sickness may be confused with coccidiosis, or with several other intestinal diseases.

"Once diagnosed, several treatments are effective in holding down the harmful effects."

Cleveland, October 18.—Sex education is the job of parents, says the National Council of Catholic Women. The organization, which is holding its twenty-fifth convention here, passed a resolution to that effect Tuesday night and asserted that such education should be carried out in the home.

The resolution stipulated that sex education "should promote religious motives for the practice of chastity."

It declared that such education does more harm than good if it equates morality of "biological information."

McCARTHY SAYS 14
PERVERTS REHIED
BY GOVERNMENT

New York, October 17. Senator McCarthy, Republican, Wisconsin, said Monday that of 91 state department employees dropped as sexual perverts, 14 were later taken back into government positions.

"And 10 are receiving higher salaries than they were getting when they were 'allowed' to resign," he added.

McCarty, addressing a convention of insurance agents, called for the immediate removal of Secretary of State Acheson.

In Washington, the State Department said there would be no immediate comment on McCarthy's statement.

You Can't Build
A Better Mousetrap!

"They're not the best-looking boarders a man ever had," Hack Turner said one day. "And they're not awful expensive. But I've found it pays to have 'em around."

Hack was talking about a family of barn owls, nesting in his attic this year. Some folks believe those little white-faced screechers kill chickens—and ought to be shot on sight. But Hack disagrees.

"Up at State University they've studied barn owls for years—and never known one to eat a chicken. On the other hand, a daddy owl will clean up around 300 mice a month. Farmers that kill barn owls are throwing away the best mousetraps known to man!"

From where I sit, when someone shows a prejudice against any group of animals or humans—it's usually just based on misreading. For instance, some folks are plumb ignorant about those of us who enjoy an occasional glass of beer. Get to really know us and you're liable to find we're pretty good kids at that!

How good are you at guessing before you answer, better put yourself to this test:

Look at the handsome honey pictured here—or recall the thousands like it that you've been seeing on the highways—and ask yourself what you think one would cost.

Bear in mind, this is an eight—and a very special eight—with the eager and ever-lively power of a high-compression valve-in-head engine that's a Fireball on foot.

Take stock of its generous expanses of safety plate glass that mean extra visibility—and the sofa-wide comfort of its deep-cushioned seats.

Take our word for it—or check for yourself—it rides like a dream—with coil springs on all four wheels instead of two—with big soft low-pressure tires on Buick's wide rims—and with feather-light handling for all its road-bugging heft.

Remember that such things as air cleaners, oil filters, dual horns, windshield wipers, sun visors and map lights, automatic door lighting, and a built-in ventilation system all come as part and parcel of every Buick at no extra cost—and likewise that Buick, and Buick

Then check local prices and see how they jibe with your idea of what such a car should cost. If you've done any shopping, you'll quickly find out that you can own a Buick at prices that start below what you'd pay for some sizes.

IMcDONALD JOINS COTTON EXPORT LIMIT PROTESTS

Houston Chronicle Staff.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner J. E.
McDouald Tuesday added his voice to the rising thunder of protests from the cotton industry over the federal limitation of cotton exports,

This is evidence that the federal governments restrictions of [prodctction]
[uncertain] of crops is disastrous," [Mrs
Mec-] [uncertain] Donald said.

Cotton exchanges in Houston, Dallas, Memphis and other cotton centers are bombarding Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan with protests against the limit of 2,000,000 bales allowed for export between last August 1 and next:
March 81.

[uncertain] P. Teal, 69, died on Friday night at his home near Pennington.

Peyton Tunstall took charge of the toll bridge at Hurricane Shoals, succeeding Joe Monk, resigned.

Edgar C. Oakley of Crockett was ordained by the Eastern Texas Presbytery at sessions in Crockett.

Speakers, seeking" a full-time Red Cross nurse in Houston-county, were to visit all parts of the county. Statement of condition of the First Guaranty State Bank at Weldon, as of September 28, 1925, showed resources of $122,662.81, as sworn to by H. H. Thompson, president,
