completely united in this, and they have been so united from the moment the challenge was announced. When [Pres-!

night, spoke of hard work and sacrifice," and said" that all of us are prepared to do whatever is necessary," he spoke the?
simple truth. Pleas of politicians for united therefore, are without valid reason. They are not needed. The [peoplo] [uncertain] already are united and they will stay that way. Americans are like that. But those Americans who have been calling for the/resignation of Defense Secretary Johnson, for example, are not any the less wholehearted in support of the war effort on that account. Nor are demands for the resignation of Scree- [Hoe tary]

War has become a personal problem to all of them. No pushbutton can eliminate problems that are bound to grow as our armed forces grow, as empty places show up at supper tables in home after home, as blue jeans are traded for khaki. Death, sickness, money [troubles—] [uncertain] family emergencies of every [kind—] [uncertain] continue to happen back home. And usually the one person the family needs, the man who can solve the problem, ease the grief, or meet the need, is away. Hes a state, a nation, or gn ocean away. These men, and their families, need help, the kind that can reach out to any big city, any town that makes a wide place in the road in [agy] [uncertain] of the 48 states. Wherever your serviceman is stationed, this help is available wherever his family lives, there no farther than a phone call from this help. Supported by the people, authorized by [congréssional] [uncertain] charter, and officially recognized by the military, the American National Red Cross is their official source of-help. Thus, the Red Cross becomes the counselor for every.conceivable problem that can confront servicemen or their families. Sometimes the solution is totally outside Red Cross responsibility, but even the organization does its best, either by referral to other proper agencies or by putting the man in touch with the right source of information.

TWO POLITICAL PARTIES FAVORED [IN TEXAS] [uncertain]

Stamford, [Texas,] [uncertain] Sept. 15, 1950. Mr. W. W. Aiken, Editor Courier, Crockett, Texas, Dear Mr. Aiken: One of your Crockett citizens was kind enough to send me a copy of the Crockett Courier a short time ago. In it, I have read, with much interest, about the efforts of the newly organized, or newly revived, Republican party of Houston county to start the ball to rolling" for two- party government in Texas. In fact, it looks as if they have already started the ball to rolling" with reasonable speed for two-party government in Houston county.

I was also fortunate enough to get a copy of a radio speech, delivered by Hon. Walter Morgan of Crockett, in behalf of the Republican party of Houston county. I will be frank to admit that I would not have thought that you people in Houston county had such able speakers and able talent to be used in the interest of good government in Texas. But since I have seen that you do have such able talent there, I want to congratulate them, through you. They have my moral support, even if that is all I can give them.

IMILK-FAT CALVES ASPECIALTY OF THE COTTON BELT

The cow-and-calf plan, or produe- Won of milk-fat calves, tin practical, simple way for many Cotton Belt Jfarmern to grow [inte] [uncertain] the business of [producdige] [uncertain] hoof,

Livestock authorities point out that iL [officiontly] [uncertain] unsex available feed, produces a type of beef in" demand at focal markets in the south ani [nouthweat,] [uncertain] and requires a minimum of capital,

You can start this program with native cows, a stood beef bull, rood pastures and no reserve of roughage. Feed cows plenty of protein for good milk flow and ereep-feed [calyes] [uncertain] for extra welt, bloom and finish at weaning, The calves [ure] [uncertain] usually sold [HE WITIMU slitighter] [uncertain] beet al [wenng] [uncertain] time however, calves of good beef quality may be given additional fattening in the dry lot if market and feed conditions justify.

Select cows for health, uniformity and ability te produce enough milk to raise a omilk-fat calf. They may he beef cows or native cows with some dairy breeding. A well-bred beef bull will get calves which have desirable beef characteristics at weaning time even though the mother cows may have some dairy breeding. Breeding to calve in the fall or winter usually makes best use of good pastures at the time calves need the most milk.

Cows obtain most of their feed from good pastures and stalk fields, Additional roughage, such ag hay, silage
