calls for concerted action by a great number of farmers and other landowners.
Some would require every farmer to grow trees on part of his land, as is done in certain Euro- pean countries. But, as W.
B. Greeley points out in American Forests, what the American farmer needs is not a policeman, but a teacher. Once he Sees the benefits to himself in growing trees, he wilt-plant them. Our federal forestry program now has 875 teachers at work, while the states have 280 more.
Their emphasis, once, almost entirely on fire prevention, is now shared with forest management. Four states have enacted mandatory cutting rules. A fifth requires the earth banks left in the wake of strip coal mining to be planted in trees.
Arkansas makes an annualdemonstration ef how forestry pays the farmer. Perhaps the most effective spur to tree planting is the tax concession. Four states now give the tree owner a Jow land tax, supplemented with a graduated yield tax. This plan js coed getting good results in all four states,TIRE REPAIRTRACTOR TRUCK AND

REPUBLICANS IN TEXAS.

Texas Republicans have opened their election campaign with a vigor that, if continued, will put some life into the November race. Ralph W. Currie of Dallas, candidate for governor, is correct in calling Texas a political orphan. The Democrats in Washington ignore this state because they regard it as in the bag. The Republicans do the same because they think they have no chance here. Making Texas a truly two-party state would bring more national attention from both major parties.

The Texas GOP has a platform that should appeal to conservative Democrats more than does the one of their own party.
What the Republicans have to fight here is the weight of the brass collar. They can do that more effectively when they quit quarreling among themselves and campaign to win elections instead of to control patronage." They can make Texas a two- party state only after they quit voting in Democratic pri- marines, organize their party from the grass roots and put candidates.in every county race and keep the organization active between elections." With many Texas Democrats dissatisfied with their [partys] [uncertain] leftist leadership, the time is ripe for greater GOP initiative [here—Dallas] need to be staffed with competent person [nel] [uncertain] in order to [Full] [uncertain] the purposes for which they were created,

The National Security [Council] [uncertain] has an [unprescribed] [uncertain] sound [nid] [uncertain] among [ite] [uncertain] nations [wae] [uncertain] Co [umenn] [uncertain] and appraise the [objectiveness] [uncertain] commitment in radar of the United States from [reliance] [uncertain] to our [netural] [uncertain] and potential) military power, in the interest of national [neutrality] [uncertain] for the purpose of making recommendations to the president in connection therewith."

The members of the committee are the president, vice-president, secretary of state, [secretary] [uncertain] of defense and chairman of the National Security [Resources Board.] [uncertain] The committee (post) was until very recently filled by the acting chairman, John R. Steelman.

Obviously on such a body the [council] [uncertain] provided a point of [linkage] [uncertain] between the departments of State and [Defense] [uncertain] and [ditto] [uncertain] else, Neither the view president nor Mr. [Steelman] [uncertain] was in a position to [narrow] [uncertain] the [problem] [uncertain] indicated because other duties kept them too busy. The president shot no service from the council [which] [uncertain] he did not get already from the two cabinet members on it.

Similarly the National Security [Resources] [uncertain] Board consists of the secret. [aries] [uncertain] of State, Treasury, Defense, [Intendukyo Agriculture] [uncertain] Canmore [uncertain] and [(as: bor.)] [uncertain] The duty of [ite] [uncertain] members is to advise the president on the industrial, military and civilian integration [necessaries] [uncertain] for defense purposes,

The Security Resources Board [isn] [uncertain] group of men, except for the chairman, overly busy with other tasks, and for more than a year it had no directing head. Mr. Truman attempted to put his crony, Mons Walgren, in as chairman. When that effort failed he ignored the board for many months, Its staff dwindled. It was [everybody's] [uncertain] business in so far as the cabinet members on the board were concerned, and consequently [nobody's] [uncertain] business.

Both of these bodies have tremendously important functions assigned to them. There is every indication that they have suffered from neglect [and] [uncertain] lack of manpower. They have [become] [uncertain] paper organizations and they tore as easily as paper when the strain of the aggression against South Korea was applied to them.

They were not only weak, they [were] [uncertain] faulty. The National Security Council approved the withdrawal of [our] [uncertain] forces from Korea without [thinking] [uncertain] ahead to the dangers that might [re-sult] [uncertain] because of the political commitment. [ment] [uncertain] we had there.

That this wit in [excess] [uncertain] of [preliminary] [uncertain] request and largely on its [biparty] [uncertain] banks can also be recounted for in the [poolable] [uncertain] window of the [Republicans Mr. Truman] [uncertain] not [comparable] [uncertain] with truth that anyone has denied [haha] [uncertain] tools that he has asked to do the job, In the Gap strategy to put the whole [responsibility] [uncertain] on the [President?] [uncertain] It can hardly be other way,

How the president will have, if the senate goes, along, extraordinary [awe-inspiring] [uncertain] power, He can control [Prived] [uncertain] or [Wayen] [uncertain] or prices and wages: He can too very [Inte] [uncertain] extent [Hilt] [uncertain] credit. [Z] [uncertain]

The basic idea in controls is embodied in the principles of [fairness,] [uncertain] economy and necessity, Freezing the [element] [uncertain] that enter into price structure [ture] [uncertain] presumably can keep prices stable, [Rationing:] [uncertain] Presumably assures a fair flow of adequate supply to everybody, or at least of no over-supply to anybody. [Credit] [uncertain] restriction strikes sharply at overspending.

This is the ideal situation [which] [uncertain] it is hoped that control will evolve, when applied. But the big question is whether the application will conform to the ideal, No experience in the past creates much faith in" [the] [uncertain] fairness and skill of the [administration] [uncertain] which will operate the machinery. The surprise will be [pleasant—and Frenzied—if] [uncertain] the fact proves. [otherwise,] [uncertain] s [easy] [uncertain] would not" reapplied as to result in the unfair elimination of enterprise, Management and labor alike must come under control if the scheme works properly, Prices [can] [uncertain] not be frozen without also freezing wages. There may be justice in the AFL contention that some wages have not kept pace to date with price rise. The problem [is] [uncertain] to make the freezing point a fair one and entirely free from political [considerations,] [uncertain] There's the rub, There's an election in November, but we have our war now,

Controls do regiment the American people and are justified only as a war measure, We must guard against submitting the free economy to them on a permanent basis, Under controls, as [Congressman] [uncertain] Rankin warned, [Tacketcers] [uncertain] can run wild, but only with the collusion and forbearance of the [administration—Dallas] [uncertain] News.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

The government has awarded a $286,000 contract for permanent visitors" facilities and exhibit building at Shasta Dam, California. The structure will contain an auditorium, observation decks and exhibit rooms. This is being done despite the fact that [excellent] [uncertain] accommodations now exist for those who wish-to see the dam and the power plant,

This is just one minor example of the reckless waste of the taxpayers" money that is going on all over the [country—in] [uncertain] spite of deficits, in spite of the demand for higher taxes, and in spite of unpredictable expenditures for the military forces and for other purposes in connection with the international situation.

The most tragic part of it all is that political support and agitation for non-essential government spending does not seem to have abated one bit. This is particularly evident in the electric power field. The socialists in the [Government—much] [uncertain] as they dislike that accurate [label—are] [uncertain] actual-

FAST RADIO ACTION [RECOVERS:] [uncertain] STOLEN CAR

Grapeland Messenger.

Modern methods of communications Tuesday night put a fast finish to the l stolen car rideof-two Trinity county teenagers.

J. T. Hicks, vacationing colored employee of the Messenger, was hijacked of his car about 11 p m and through fast action of the sheriffs department radio, recovered his car about [12:30] [uncertain] a m.

According to Hicks, he was leaving the square at Crockett when a person stumbled in front of his car as he turned at the Herman Knox Furniture store. He quickly stopped and another person stepped up to the car and inquired if he was going to Grapeland. Hicks replied yes and both boys then asked if they could ride. He said yes and they got in.

During the ride to [Grapeland, Hicks] [uncertain] said the two white boys, about 15 and 17. years old, talked of school, people and places. In front of the Hicks asked what they wanted and offered them his money and told them to keep the car but let him out. He said the boys appeared undecided as to what they really intended to do, but refused to take his small amount of change.

Approaching Latexo, Hicks again asked to be let out and was put out, being told he could pick up his car in Crockett the next

Buster McPhail, Latexo resident, was aroused by Hicks and drove him to Crockett where they located Sheriff [Loyd>] [uncertain] Lovell.

Sheriff [Lovell] [uncertain] placed the missing car flash on the radio and established check units on major roads in the county and alerted law enforcement officers in adjoining counties.

Within an hour of the flash, Groveton highway patrol officers notified Lovell they had picked up the boys, recovered the car and confiscated two

[AT CENTENNIAL "] [uncertain] HOME-COMING

Centerville, August [25,—Centerville,] [uncertain] population 916, Friday welcomed some 3000 former residents to a homecoming celebration in observance of the towns 100th birthday.

The celebration began with a parade led by a band from. Huntsville, directed by J. A. McMichen. John Ben Shepperd, Texas secretary of state, addressed the crowd [1] [uncertain] at liam guests at noon on the courthouse lawn.

The afternoon program featured a fiddlers' [conetst] [uncertain] directed by Barker Tunstall of Crockett, president of the East Texas Fiddlers Association,

Friday night a square dance was scheduled on the high school campus, while a ball was held in the school gymnasium, Centerville was established on January 24, 1850, although there was a small settlement here earlier.

R. J. Towns deeded the first 100acre [townsite] [uncertain] for the city, and later D. C. Carrington deeded 100 more acres, reserving some town lots for himself.

Centerville was designated as the Leon county seat when it was organized. The county seat formerly had been at Leona.

The first courthouse here was a frame building which cost $2200. It was replaced in 1858 by an $8000 [twostory] [uncertain] brick building. When that structure was damaged- by fire in 1885, it was replaced by the present $28,000 building o

During the current celebration, many pictures are on display here, depicting the towns growth,

The oldest was made 100 years ago by W. E. Wingfield, who came to Leon county in 1850 from: Virginia.

BULLDOGS HAVE SCRIMMAGE WITH KIRBYVILLE CREW

Coaches Dusty Simmons and Robert Summers took their Crockett High Bulldogs to Woodville Friday night for a practice scrimmage with [the]] [uncertain] Kirbyville High Wildcats. The Wildcats are coached by Herman Fitts, formerly at Trinity. Kirbyville has a light, young and inexperienced crew, but gave the Crockett eleven a stiff workout. Crockett counted quite several touchdowns" in the practice scrimmage and gave up none. However, the Crockett squad showed need for much work before opening the season with the experienced: Silsbee [High,] [uncertain] eleven here September 8, The practice gave the Crockett mentors considerable
