AID IN ABUNDANCE
BUT TAXPAYERS
PAY FOR IT

Uncle Sam has a bargain basement sale in the making with a total of 392 attractive offers of financial aid to state and local governments. All the federal government wants in return is a bigger say in running local town affairs.

In a special study released, state chambers of commerce added the bills for federal aid before this first congress and came up with the total of 397.

If all of these were passed, they would add approximately $2,200,000,000 to present federal spending, $1,000,000,000 to present federal revenue, and $1,200,000,000 to present federal deficit.

These proposals cover 41 different types of grants-in-aid. They include such measures as spending $5 million for the federal government to enter the character training field and another $5 million to promote the health and soundness of youth.

Gov. Allan Shivers won the Democratic primary Saturday by a runaway majority.

But Texans will have to wait until next month to get a lieutenant governor.

Percy P. Brooks, Dallas insurance man, and Ben Ramsey, San Antonio former secretary of state, were leaders in the 12-man race for Texas' second highest office.

Brooks appeared to have a sure spot in the runoff primary for lieutenant governor. If early returns hold up, Ramsey will be his opponent.

Voters did more than give Governor Shivers a full 2-year term in the officials, made a decisive vote in the runoff primary.

A runoff is required between two high men when no candidate has more than all opponents combined.

The runoff primary will be Aug. 26.

J. E. McDonald, veteran commissioner of agriculture and pet hute of the state's Democratic leaders, had a slim majority over three opponents at 9 p. m. He is seeking an eleven-term.

The Democratic State Executive Committee tried to pick McDonald off the ballot last month because he has bolted the party to vote for Republican candidates for president.

McDonald appealed to the State Supreme Court and won.

If McDonald has a runoff, his opponent, probably will be State Rep. Charlie McDaniel, Eagle Lake.

AN EDITORIAL,

By F. M. Flynn

President and General Manager, The New York News.

My first [oentact] [uncertain] with a weekly newspaper was in Mt. Ayr, Iowa.

Nearly [everyoné] [uncertain] read the Record-

News. When a newsboy there, only the entrance of the United States into the first World War made it possible for me to sell many of those in this small community a city" paper. I wore out several bike" tires before and after school trying to convince the good citizens of Mt. Ayr they should let [nie] [uncertain] deliver the Des Moines Register to them each morning, A few went through the war with only their weekly paper, and un occasional Sunday Register.

Since that time, in many meetings of [representatives] [uncertain] of large news- papers, I have observed the deep respect in which the weekly newspapers of-the United States are held. Publishers of weekly newspapers do not have full appreciation of their strength and influence, and their responsibilities.

If efficiently operated and in a sound financial position I see no reason why the primary duty and obligation of a weekly newspaper is any
