TEN BILLIONS SOUGHT TO REBUILD FORCES

[illegible or non-text passage omitted — see scan]

Crockett Courier — July 27, 1950

Washington, July [19.—Tho] [uncertain] United States started [mustoring] [uncertain] men, money and materials Wednesday to win the Korean War and to prepare for other Communist aggressions in any part of the world,

President Truman shocked congress and the nation into the seriousness of the situation by asking for ten billion dollars to build up and equip the armed forces.

The amount was almost double the highest estimates of what his message to congress would recommend.

Acting on presidential instructions given in his message to congress, the Defense Department announced that reserves will be called to active duty immediately on a limited basis, bringing in men having certain skills.

Rep. George H. Mahon of Colorado City, chairman of the house appropriations, group handling military spending, called its members together immediately to consider the 10-billiondollar request,

Mahon considered the price cheap if it will buy peace. He hoped no more will be needed.

The Texan said the armed forces [dont] [uncertain] need money now, so there will be no rushing to get the bill to the floor. It wont be ready next week, the date Speaker Sam Rayburn" hopes to obtain house action on the economic controls requested by President. Truman.

Mahon said it wont take ten billion dollar$ to win in Korea, but the amount was not excessive to meet the world situation.

The president called for paying for the war and preparedness program on [8] [uncertain] pay-as-you-go basis as far as possible. He pointed out" this will offset inflationary pressures and said heavier taxes will make general controls less necessary.

To siphon needed materials to war plants, Mr. Truman asked congress to grant him broad powers to [séé] [uncertain] that the military program is not hampered by demands for civilian goods. Details of regulations would be left to him.

He did not ask for price control and rationing but said if a sharp rise in prices should make it necessary, I shall not hesitate to recommend the more drastic [nieasures"] [uncertain] of such regulations.

Amid an almost unanimous acclaim of his program for vast new tax burdens, congress moved swiftly to meet the presidential demands.

The president told congress re- [quests_will-come-later-to-increasethe] [uncertain] fighting power of the Atlantic Pact nations and countries in other parts
