CONGRESSMAN TOM PICKETT ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

"Standing squarely on my record," Congressman Tom Pickett of Anderson county formally announced his candidacy for re-election to Congress Sunday.

Sincerity, attained by continuous service in Congress, is a controlling factor in acquiring prestige and influence. All new Congressmen must begin at the bottom and work up. Having gone through the "beginners" period, diligently applying myself to the job, I have gained knowledge and experience that will stand me in good stead in future service. After six years service I feel that I am much better qualified to represent the 7th Texas District than I was as a beginner. The record shows I have accomplished some worth while things. It is impossible to cover every phase; therefore, the following is only a partial report of the record on which I stand and the principles that will guide me in future service, as your Congressman.

My support of strong armed forces as a deterrent to aggression and the best assurance of peace will be continued, including enlarging the Air Force to 20 groups, resuming the experimentation in new and improved weapons, guided missiles, atomic energy, submarines, and an improved system of military justice.

A strong bi-partisan foreign policy, designed to establish peace, including measures to stop the spread of Communism at home and abroad, and opposition to appeasement of Russia and her satellites, will have my continued support. Communist expansion has been stopped in Western Europe, slowed in most of the rest of the world. In this country many Communists, fellow-travelers and spies are being successfully prosecuted; and there are under constant scrutiny by the F. B. I. One essential for a strong nation is a sound domestic economy. To maintain it, we should operate the Federal Government under a balanced budget. We should eliminate unnecessary expenditures, reduce the debt as far as possible, and scrutinize the essential most carefully before passing appropriation bills. On May 10, I spoke for amendments to and helped adopt the bill reducing the President's budget requests for 1931 by approximately 2 billion dollars.

I have supported and am for reduction in income and excise taxes, closing tax loopholes and eliminating duplication in keeping with a balanced budget and orderly debt retirement. Legislation is now being considered to eliminate or reduce levies on household and baby necessities, cosmetics, transportation tickets, telephone and telegraph charges, auto parts, admissions and many others. The bill is expected to be reported out of committee soon.

Governmental reorganization in line with Hoover Commission recommendations to promote efficiency and economy, reducing the number of federal employees has my support. Some legislation and twenty-eight administrative reorganization plans have gone into effect in the past year. More to come. The number of federal civilian employees on the pay roll has been cut almost in half since the war-time peak. Recent House action, which I supported, will make further reductions when enacted into law.

The Government can properly devote to conservation of the natural resources of this Nation from which our wealth is derived. As a member of the House Committee on Public Works, which deals with roads, flood control, rivers and harbors development, and soil conservation in part, I have supported those programs vigorously. I helped write in committee, manage and debate on the floor of the House, legislation dealing with those subjects that has become law.

Two extensions of the farm to market road program have been the result of my efforts. Major flood control developments are under construction on the Trinity and Neches Rivers. Others are to follow on those streams and the Angelina, Neches and San Jacinto Rivers. Legislation that I introduced and sponsored, for increased flood protection, tree planting and conservation, has been enacted. A soil conservation survey of the middle and lower Trinity River is now being conducted based upon the results of a soil survey conducted by the Agricultural Experiment Station, Rural Experiment Station in Texas has more than doubled since 1916 and has always had my active support.

My activity in and familiarity with subjects under jurisdiction of the Public Works Committee allow me to make an active part in other legislative fields. When the Federal Works Administration Act of 1930 was introduced by the Department of Agriculture, I

PICKETT ANNOUNCES FOR [REELECTION] [uncertain]

TO THE CITIZENS [OF*] [uncertain] THE

SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DIS-

TRICT:

Standing squarely on my record"

Congressman Tom Pickett of Anderson county formally [amnouted] [uncertain] his candidacy for re-election to Congress for another term.

Seniority, attained by continuous service in Congress, is a controlling factor in acquiring prestige and in- [fluence,] [uncertain] All new congressmen must begin at the bottom and work up. Having gone through the beginners" period, diligently applying myself to the job, I have gained knowledge and experience that will stand me in good stead in future service. After six years service I feel that I am much better qualified to represent the 7th Texas District than I was as a beginner. The record shows I have accomplished some worth while things.

It is impossible to cover every phase therefore, the following is only a partial report of the record on Which I stand and the principles that will guide me in future service, as Your. [Congressman,] [uncertain]

My support of strong armed forces as a deterrent to aggression and the best assurance of peace will be continued, including enlarging the Air Force to 70 groups, research and experimentation in new and improved weapons, guided missiles, atomic energy, submarines, and an improved system of military justice hh A strong bi-partisan foreign policy, designed to establish peace, including measures to stop the spread of Communism at home and abroad, and opposition to appeasement of Russia and her satellites, will have my continued support, Communist expansion has been stopped in. Western Europe, slowed in most of the rest of the world, In this country many Communists, fellow-travelers and spies are being successfully prosecuted; [cthers] [uncertain] are under [constaht] [uncertain] scrutiny by the F. B. I,

One essential for a strong nation is a sound domestic economy. To maintain it, we should operate the Federal Government under a balanced budget. We should eliminate unnecessary expenditures, reduce the desirable as low as possible, and scrutinize the essential most carefully before passing appropriation bills. On May 10, I spoke for amendments to and helped adopt the bill reducing the [Presidents] [uncertain] budget requests for 1951 by approximately. 2 billion dollars ca a

I have supported and am for reduction in income and excise taxes, closing tax loopholes and eliminating duplication in keeping with a balanced budget and" orderly debt retirement. [Legislation:]

[uncertain] is now being considered.to eliminate or reduce levies on household and- baby necessities, cosmetics, transportation tickets, tele- Phone and telegraph charges, auto parts, admissions and many others. The bill is expected to be reported out of committee soon.

Governmental reorganization in line with Hoover Commission recommendations to promote efficiency and economy, reducing the number of federal employees has my support. Some legislation and twenty-eight administrative reorganization plans have gone into effect in the past year. More will follow. The number of federal civilian-employees on the pay roll has been cut almost in half since the wartime peak. Recent House action, which I supported will make further Congress, and since then, I have supported a sound program for veterans, their widows and children, improved hospitalization and medical care, adequate education and vocational [rehab-] [uncertain] imitation, a revised insurance program, protection of veterans employment rights, aid in home construction, and other legislation to provide for the essential interest of veterans of all wars, Their requests for assistance have always had my immediate per- sonar attention. I voted for a Jaw to provide" the [J] [uncertain] basis for orderly settlement of [laborindustry disputes,--to--reduce--losa--of] [uncertain] productivity and wages caused by strikes, to curb arbitrary power of unfair employers and radical [labor] [uncertain] bosses, to give the working man a voice in his own affairs and to [drive] Communists [uncertain] out of labor union control. I voted for amendments to im- prove that law for the benefit of employees, employers and the [general] [uncertain] public. Because of my votes for these fair propositions, I am blacklisted [and] [uncertain] j marked for defeat by the CIO Political) Action Committee. Believing in the [Constitution,;:] [uncertain] States" Rights, less concentration of power in and unnecessary [regimenta-] tion [uncertain] of the people from Washington, [I] [uncertain] oppose subtle attempts to [undermine}] [uncertain] your system of free enterprise now [un-] der [uncertain] attack by Communists, [left-wing,;] [uncertain] zealots and fellow travelers. Standing for sound principles [of] [uncertain] government, featuring a free society r against such attacks, I have opposed parts of the so-called Truman Civil [Rights] [uncertain] Program on the floor of the [House,] [uncertain] over the radio and in personal speeches, I am particularly opposed to repeal of the segregation laws and creation of the FEPC. If enacted, such [legislatoin] [uncertain] could result in ad- ministrative dictatorship and [violence,;] [uncertain] to, if not destruction of, the good [re-] lationships [uncertain] now existing between [peo-] ple [uncertain] of all races who live together [in,] [uncertain]

FREE SPEECH FREER [THAN] [uncertain] SALVATION

Friend Milldew said Saturday [that}] [uncertain] he favored, a reasonable amount of free [spéech,] [uncertain] but that he did not favor, too much of it just because it was free that it was whole hog or [none"} [uncertain] with. Mrs. [Milldew—she] [uncertain] goes the whole length of a free vocabulary but she was coming to the point where she favored free speech only for herself. She would rather he wouldn't talk back to" [her—only] [uncertain] to give satisfactory answers after staying out too late. Our friend likes anything: [else].] [uncertain] that is free, he said, as he concealed a bottle of snuff. When we [asked].] [uncertain] him how much he got for the use [of] [uncertain] his [pictureon] [uncertain] the fiddlers" festival advertising cards, he said that [Mrs.] [uncertain] Milldew loaned that picture to the committee, with the request that [the:}] [uncertain] committee return it to her, as it [was].] [uncertain] her only means of keeping the [hawks] [uncertain] away from the chickens. Mrs. [Mill-||] [uncertain] dew thinks speech should be as free as salvation for all who want to [go"] [uncertain] to heaven, but she is against it for those who want to go to Louisiana.

Mr. Ivie stated that in every case he was given the full [co-] [uncertain] operation of the schools involved.

The purpose of Mr. Ivies visit was to acquaint the students and teachers with the [vaue] [uncertain] of East Texas" [forest:] [uncertain] resources to the states economy. He particularly pointed out to the [groups] [uncertain] the damage done to these forest resources by wild fires. Emphasis was added to his talks by the use of [movies] [uncertain] covering causes of and [preventative] [uncertain] measures to be taken against wild) fires.

[Where] [uncertain] possible, the local crew leader accompanied Mr. Ivie and [demon-] strated] [uncertain] the use of his fire-fighting equipment to the group. Blotters, posters and miscellaneous literature [em-] phasizing] [uncertain] the fire prevention theme were distributed.
