EVICTING THOSE: WHO WORK HARD.

We come to a [curlous] [uncertain] phase of the

More Abundant Life of the Queer

[Deal] [uncertain] when it gets around to putting oman out of a government housing project because he works as hard as he can at his trade, You see, [lowincome] [uncertain] projects stipulate that the dwelling units [aro] [uncertain] for people who make a stipulated sum per year and no more,

Woll, here comes the Dallas Home Builders Association and demands that" the Dallas Housing Authority throw out tenants who made more than $1,800 n year. Tho DHBA is strictly within the law of the More [Abundant_Lifo,] [uncertain] of course. That is to say, under the [New Dent-Queer] [uncertain] Deal, the more abundance comes always at the expense of the taxpayer:

[As—woon—na—tho] [uncertain] abundant liver be- comes an" abundant worker, he loses his standing with the New [Deal-Queer] [uncertain] Deal and earns enough to become a tax-goose whose only legal right is to lose feathers to the tax collector.

But everybody knows that it would be downright harshness to throw a man out of a government housing unit because he makes $1,800 plus $10 on an odd job, And anybody ought to be able to see that it is fundamentally wrong to set up a law where a man is punished for working all he can [toearn] [uncertain] all he can. Yet, as things are, many of the Dallas Housing Authority tenants are expected 0 lie about their income to the authority, while they tell the truth about to [another_branch] [uncertain] of the [government.] [uncertain]

Meanwhile, if we are going to throw jut the $1,810 people, lets begin with he white families first. Negro families thrown out would have [practially] [uncertain] no place in Dallas where they [ould_go.] [uncertain] We are going to have to 2 reasonable [aboiiit] [uncertain] this-thing. which may mean the differ- once between life and death and freedom and tyranny for hundreds of [t]] [uncertain] millions of people. However, due to their powerful dramatic qualities, they have served to obscure a problem which is directly related both to our national security and our economic [wellbeing,] [uncertain] and which ia causing the [Q} prraveat] [uncertain] concern among business [leadrjers,] [uncertain] government officials, and econo- mists of all shades of opinion. That problem is the present monetary and [fiseal] [uncertain] policy of the [Federal] [uncertain] govern- [ment,] [uncertain] and, more particularly, of the Truman administration.

A rather typical view was expres- feed by the vice-president of one of t the leading banks of Utah. He said that when, on August 4 of last year; this country returned to deficit fi- [nancing] [uncertain] in spite of full employment, high national income and maximum [production-the-event-could-be-roferr=] leading to national suicide." Then he added:

Every free institution in this great [Jcountry-should-have] [uncertain]

There has been much concern over the rather amazing fact that the Pres- [idents] [uncertain] Council of Economic Advisers, in its latest economic report, did not deal with how to manage the. [na-,] [uncertain] tonal debt, This was [emphasized]] [uncertain] in an address by Edwin G. Nourse, who once headed the council but ra- signed because of disagreement with administration policies.
Referring to the argument that current policy pra- [vides] [uncertain] a sound basis for economic growth and budgetary balance in the next-few years, Dr. Nourse said: I cannot quite buy this-attractive pack- age. It seems to rest upon the assumption.that a vigorous rate of eco[nomic] [uncertain] growth is inherent in our busi- hess system no matter what you do to it, and to overlook quite discern-able impediments to that rate of pro[gress] [uncertain] which are injected by the pro- posed economic and fiscal program itself." He warned that the rising national debt resulting from-govern[ment] [uncertain]

spenhding-beyond-income con- [tains] [uncertain] possibilities of accelerating in[flation] [uncertain] or a rising uncertainty ag [to"] [uncertain] the-stability of the

WHAT DO WE GET FOR MONEY?

Senator William Benton of Connecticut, in his maiden speech in the senate proposed a new Marshall plan of information as a supplement to our existing foreign policy. The resolution which the new member offered was endorsed by 10 other members of the senate.

Mr. Benton comes by his idea naturally.
He made a fortune as a young man in the advertising business. He was, in the days immediately after the war, assistant secretary of state in charge of the departments information program. The Voice of America was continued as a peacetime [func-| tion] [uncertain] under his direction.

It, nevertheless, needs to be determined just what we are getting for our money in this campaign to spread our point" of view" throughout the world.- Only this week it was stated officially that the Russians are now jamming 170 per cent of the programs with which we seek to penetrate the iron curtain by air. There are

He and greater participation and interest in production of meat chickens is present this year than at any time since the program began in the state.

Many of the birds produced in the program to date have weighed four and five pounds at 12 weeks of age, compared with a former average of two and one-half to three [poands] [uncertain] at that age. Chickens this size are large enough to roast, yet young and tender enough to broil or fry to suit consumer preferences.

Breeders whose [birds\are] [uncertain] most outstanding in 1960 state and regional teats will be selected by a committee of poultry authorities to compete in the national finals in the spring of 1951.

QUOTING MACAULAY.

The following quotation from Macaulay concerning the government of England more than 120 years ago seems particularly appropriate with regard to our own government at the present time.

Our [rulers_will.bast-promote] [uncertain] the improvement of the nation by strictly confining themselves to their own legitimate duties, by leaving capital to find its most lucrative course, commodities their fair price, industry and intelligence their natural reward, idleness and folly their natural punishment, by maintaining peace, by defending property, by diminishing the price of law, and by observing strict economy in every department of the state. Let the government do this the people will assuredly do the rest."
