DESTRUCTION HAS BEEN RAMPANT [AN-OUR FORESTS] [uncertain]

T here hun been enough dogwood destroyed around Crockett to place the town in the center of n natural dogwood park. The dogwood tree ts very delicate, and when a few limbs are broken from jt, it ia no more. The Courier editor remembers when you could drive in any [direetion from.] [uncertain] Crockett and find every neck of the woods filled with dogwood blossoms at this" time of the year. But now, due to their destruction-by the [people;} Miey] [uncertain] are very scarce in every neck of the woods" around Crockett, Time was when we all drove out in our [buggics] [uncertain] and carriages, and every buggy or carriage we met was filled with blossoming and blooming dogwood limbs.
