SENATORS BLUNT

[OFRECLOANS] [uncertain]

Washington, February [17.—Two] [uncertain]

Democratic fair deal senators have blunted the campaign of Sonator J. W.

Fulbright, Democrat, Arkansas, to investigate multimillion dollar REC loans to Kaiser-Frazer Corporation,

Lustron Corporation and other big borrowers.

Senator Scott [W. Lucas,] [uncertain] Democrat, Hlinois, has introduced a bill to liberalize, rather than restrict, the RFC program of loans to business.

Senator Joseph OMahoney, Democrat, Wyoming, is proposing to make business credit easier by setting up capital banks in the country under" Federal Reserve Board sponsorship.

Both these ideas clash with [Fule->] [uncertain] brights argument that the government ought to get out of the lending business in boom times, and save its financial strength to relieve distress and unemployment in bad times.

The Lucas-OMahoney program would keep the government in the equity money market at all times to prevent periods of credit stringency dy re [ennncegenie] [uncertain]
