Long continued colds may pave the way for nan attack of pneumonia, tu- [berculosia] [uncertain] or a chronic infection of ss the nose, throat, ears or sinuses, Do your best to keep from [cutching] [uncertain] cold:

If you do catch one, take care of it promptly by going to bed, keep warm and dry, drink plenty of citrus juices and water, If tho cold is severe, consult your physician.

Another enemy is, pneumonia, an acute infection of the lungs. Virus pneumonia is the most common of all [pneumoniag] [uncertain] today. It may occur at any age, and usually [appearssin] [uncertain] local outbreaks instead of far-reach- ing epidemics. In any case of pneu- [monia,] [uncertain] good medical [caro] [uncertain] and nurs- ing play a great role in recovery.

Lobar pneumonia is caused by a ae bacteria not a virus, and is very contagious. A generation ago one out of every four who had this die ease died. Today, thanks to the miracle drugs," many are saved. It is most common in late winter and early spring,
