Promoting Happiness

The "Grapieland" Messenger, our neighbor to the north, reckons as follows:

"In case you find an error in the Messenger, please consider that it was put there for somebody's benefit. We try to get something in the paper for everybody, and some of our readers are always looking for mistakes."

The Grapieland editor desires to promote happiness, and if some of our subscribers are not looking for mistakes in others, they are not happy. As our own errors seldom bother us, too many of us are happy when complaining of the other fellow's errors. It is human to err, so when we err we give some semblance of being human.

MR. O. B. RHONE
GIVEN PLAQUE
FOR SERVICE

Mr. O. B. Rhone of the East Texas Motor & Equipment Co. received a five-year recognition plaque from the J. I. Case Company for his outstanding service to farmers, as a Case dealer at the Case Dealer Banquet on January 29, 1952, at Dallas, Texas.

In presenting the award, Mr. F. B. Smith pointed out the change from manual to mechanized agriculture in the past quarter of a century has been one of the major factors in making the American standard of living.

To the consumer, this progress has brought a quality and quantity of food and fiber unknown in the history of the world. To the farmer, this has meant shorter and less tedious working hours, greater independence and better living for his family. The farm equipment dealer, he added, has done much to foster this agricultural development and make this country the world leader in food production, even though less than 20% of the population is in the farm.

The J. I. Case Company, which has presented 65 awards in the Dallas branch area. Of these, one went to dealers with 25 or more years of service for the last 25 years of service, and thirty-seven for five years of service.
