CROCKETT COURIER: MARCH 27, 1952

WE ARE THANKFUL THAT THE STORM WAS NOT WORSE

Storm damage in Crockett was not as damaging as in some places, for which we should be thankful. The damage in Crockett was confined to tearing some limbs from trees and in some places, blowing down shade trees. A few houses lost their roofs, but as it was a dry storm, small physical damage was done. A few garages blew over, but no one suffered physical injury, as all damage was financial so far as the Courier has been able to learn. According to reports, damage was more severe at Lufkin than at Crockett, but we have heard of no one being physically injured. Some small houses blew over and some roofs were damaged, but all accounts escaped without physical damage. The same is reported at Alto and at Grapeland. Other places were hit by the storm, but we have heard of no one being killed or seriously injured.

The north that followed Friday night's storm brought forth a cold front Sunday morning and Tuesday morning. The second morning is usually the coldest here, weather modification setting in usually on the second or third day, the temperature rising up for another weather surprise.

KENNARD COUNTY

Crockett had drawn a first-round bye, then defeated Austin in the semi-finals. Other teams entered were Lovelady, Glover and Lufkin. Grapeland and Porter Springs did not enter teams.

Thus the championship remains in the east end of Houston county. Kennard secured the title, which won the 1951 title. All district pupils above the sixth grade now attend Kennard schools.

In the first round game Kennard defeated Lufkin 34 to 10 and Glover 35 to 16. Austin advanced by default and Crockett had lost. Crockett and Lufkin were the sixth grade now attend Kennard schools.

"Bitter" 14 points paced Kennard to a 30 to 14 victory over Glover in the semi-final, as Crockett was outscored Austin 24 to 17.

McClain and Powell each scored 15 points in the final. Left played outstanding defensive ball throughout for the champions.

MISS HAWKINS

Miss Willie Hawkins of Lovelady was seriously injured Sunday afternoon near Huntsville, returning from a visit to Brookshire. An oncoming driver forced her car off the road, causing her to lose control of her car, which plowed through a four-strand barbed wire fence and hit a tree, demolishing her car.

Miss Hawkins was assisted to the hospital in Huntsville by some people who happened by.

The driver of the car which caused the accident kept speeding down the road.

It was learned at the hospital where she was hospitalized that Miss Hawkins sustained four broken ribs and a lacerated hand.

As you may know, Miss Hawkins is the home-making teacher of Lovelady school.

TRUMAN REPUTED IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

The strength of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is the New Hampshire primary on Tuesday was neither met as surprising as the weakness of President Harry S. Truman. It was anticipated that General Eisenhower would win. It was freely predicted that President Truman, with the support of the state Democratic organization, would make a minimum out of Senator E. A. Tamm. Tamm supporters may be disappointed, but Truman backers must be satisfied.

There was no general pattern in the outcome. The senator from Ohio won almost as decisively as his Tennessee colleague in cultivating the New Hampshire voters. The results in his case were negative. Senator E. A. Tamm went into the primary, too, was everything and even beat the president in the state's caucus where the labor vote was supposed to be in the bag for Mr. Truman. Neither the president nor General Eisenhower campaigned personally. That strategy worked for General Eisenhower and proved to be disastrous for Mr. Truman.—Houston Chronicle.

Mrs. E. E. Dawson, treasurer.

Mrs. Patsy Ruth Vaughn, historian.

Don Waller, business manager.

Installation of officers will be held May 1.

A feature of the program was a safety film sponsored by General Motors and shown by Benie Ellis, safety chairman. The safety program in the school has been endorsed by the National PTA, and this is the first year that this program has been sponsored in the local schools. Mr. Harnley, highway patrolman, gave an interesting talk in behalf of this program.

An outstanding honor was given Mrs. W. L. Jordan with the presentation of the "Perpetual Care" award. A half of his life and membership in the PTA has been a life of service to the parent-teacher association and in behalf of his valuable assistance in the school. Mr. Jordan has been in addition to his heavy duties as superintendent of the Crockett schools.

Two past presidents of the Parent-Teacher association in Crockett have only previously won this award. These were the late Mrs. G. R. McClain, who served as president in 1947-48, and Mrs. J. A. McClain, who served as president in 1948-49.

Members of the association who are working in the schools remain an inspiration to many, and Mrs. J. A. McClain, whose untiring efforts in the schools have been an inspiration to many, and Mrs. J. A. McClain, whose untiring efforts in the schools have been an inspiration to many.

Standing to encourage other members through their years of service from the first year their child entered school through graduation days.

The meeting Thursday night was well attended, 40 people being present.

Mrs. Carlton Kendall, president, urged members to plan to attend the district convention which will be held this year in Crockett on April 11. A social hour followed, Mrs. C. N. Sullivan, hospitality chairman, assisting in gracious duties. Punch and coffee were served from the refreshment table, served by a gift of spring garden flowers.

11th grade won home-room prize.

SIXTY-TWO YEARS AGO IN HOUSTON COUNTY

The following items were taken from the Courier files of 62 years ago this week:

Announcements included Y. B. Bayler for sheriff, C. B. Sheffield for justice of the peace of precinct 4, John I. Moore for county attorney, Archie Adams of Weldon for commissioner of precinct 3 and J. B. Pifer of Lovelady for tax collector.

N. J. Mainer, J. T. Collier and J. B. Howard were appointed jury commissioners.

W. H. Denny bought the J. R. Foster mercantile store in Crockett. Judge A. E. Gussett died Monday at the age of 78. He donated the townsite of Crockett.

The young folks had a "social hop" in the Pickwick hotel dining room.

GOLDEN GULF COAST FEATURED IN SUCCESS STORY

Houston, described as a natural capital for the golden Gulf Coast, is featured as the American success story in the April issue of Harvard Magazine.

James Street, one of the South's great novelists, who authored the article, writes of the city as a "thriving wealth, strut and strength, with visible evidence to back up the brag."

The article, illustrated with thirty-six photographs—many of them in full color—pays tribute to the phenomenal development of the city. It traces its growth from the beginnings little more than a hundred years ago when it consisted of one log cabin, a bottle of brandy and a surveyor's chain and compass, and four faithful slaves.

"Beyond all doubt, the great industrial and commercial expansion of Texas," was the unlikely claim of the founding Allen brothers, he recalls. "But," he continues, "Houston was on her way and hasn't been headed since." The chamber of commerce then founded is, now a model of many other organizations might profitably study "the ringmaster and calliope for an exciting state show, but never water log the business" of all flags dock there each year.

Regardless of comments to the contrary, Mr. Street declares, Houston is a Southern city. "It is more Southern than Atlanta," he states. "Here you will find Virginia's pride

THAT THE STORM [WAS] [uncertain] NOT WORSE

Storm damage in Crockett was not as damaging as in some places, for which we should be thankful. The damage in Crockett was confined to tearing some limbs from trees and, in some places, blowing down shade trees. A [few houses] [uncertain] their roofs, but as it was dry [aturn,] [uncertain] small [physical] [uncertain] resulted. A few garages blew over, but no [one] [uncertain] suffered physical injury, as all damage was financial, no far as the Courier has been able to learn. According to [reports,] [uncertain] damage was more [severe] [uncertain] at Latexo than at Crockett, but we have heard of no one being physically injured. [Jured.] [uncertain] Same [small] [uncertain] houses blew over [and] [uncertain] some roofs were damaged, but all [occupants] [uncertain] escaped without physical loss. The same is reported at Alto and at Grapeland. Other places were hit by the storm, but we have [heard] [uncertain] of no one being killed or seriously injured. The northern part that followed Friday night's storm brought frost to Crockett Sunday morning and ice Monday morning. The second morning is [usually] [uncertain] the coldest here, weather moderation setting in usually on the second [or] [uncertain] third day, the temperature easing up for another weather surprise.
