SINCE 1911 we have attempted to keep pace with the ever changing times which have introduced many advances and improvements in our profession. We feel that our new home is the most complete of any in the southwest.

Our chapel will seat 300 persons, and a new Hammond Organ assures the sweetest of service music. And, in addition to providing a comfortably furnished private room for the family, Callaway features a large reception room, men's room, ladies' lounge, and a "Coffee bar" for the convenience of those who wish to sit up.

Callaway Funeral Home.

Crockett people attending the flower show at Porter Springs were especially in the highest praise for the exhibits. The flowers were gathered and arranged for exhibit by the Porter Springs school children in a most pleasing manner. A fusion of exhibits were of wild flowers, gathered almost entirely by children of the school. Arrangements were wonderful, and suggested room for a garden club of Porter Springs devotees, with the assistance of parents. Flowers are nature's loveliest gifts to those who crave natural beauties, and who are not satisfied with the artificial. The Courier congratulates the students of Porter Springs for their planning and the teachers for their pains and fragrant results of their efforts. Superintendent Lund came in for a generous part in the praise. The Courier is advised.

COMMUNITY NEWS

The Crockett High Bulldogs won a practice baseball game in Huntville Monday night, defeating the Homecoming boys 5 to 3 and avenging an earlier loss to the Lyons. The Bulldogs won five innings and Jackie Corbitt the final two. Meanwhile Crockett found Huntville pitching to their liking.

Tuesday afternoon the Bulldogs traveled to Grapeland to open district play and met defeat to 1-0. The game was disappointing as the route for Grapeland was effective in the clutches in the late innings. Bob Worthing started for Crockett, but gave way to Jake Lyon, who was relieved in turn by Jackie Corbitt. Some were in doubt as to whether or not the Bulldogs were as effective and Crockett fielded the pitchers erratic support.

Formal opening of the new Callaway Funeral Home, on North Sewall street, has been announced for Saturday and Sunday. Hours for the opening on Saturday are 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., and on Sunday are 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. The general public is invited to attend the opening.

The new chapel has been named Callaway Memorial Chapel, in memory of the late C. H. Callaway, who opened the first funeral home in Houston in 1913. It seats 500 people. A Hammond organ is included. Music and floral arrangements are included in the new arrangements.

The new funeral home is completely air-conditioned, winter and summer.
