HE WAS MY FRIEND.

Again referring to Bill Cook's book, "The Work of a Negro," written by him at Prairie View while an instructor in the art of printing in that college, the author, himself a Negro, wrote of Mrs. Lee J. Broun, editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, thinking her for valuable advice and assistance in the arrangement of his book. Prairie View is a branch of the Texas A. & M. college at Bryan. In its list of contributors, the book lists Judge P. O. Beard, Judge R. T. Brown, Editor W. W. Aiken, Judge Chas. L. Brackfield, Miss Ina Hogg, Mr. Brad Kanter, Editor Giles M. Halton, Mrs. N. B. Morris, Mr. H. L. Griffin and many more.

When Col. Bob Miller died at Henderson, Bill Cook, the Negro author, was one of the chief mourners at his funeral. He said simply, "Col. Miller was my friend. I shall miss him." After Bill Cook had gone to Prairie View, he wrote the Crockett Courier editor a letter, thanking him for the assistance this editor gave him in Col. Miller's office and on his journey. His book contains the Courier editor's reply, which was as follows, under date of Crockett, Texas, March 20, 1935: "Dear Bill: The great teaching that Col. Miller gave to us here was worth much in our lives as we grew older. I often think of the old man that stood in the middle of the Times office and how Col. Miller used to draw a bucket of water from the fountain for the old man to drink. I am afraid we did not properly appreciate his efforts at that time. You and I use recognize that we need men of his leadership today. Yours very respectfully, (signed) W. W. Aiken." The book's author refers to the present Courier editor as having been the assistant of Col. Miller at the time of which he writes.

The following contribution to the book is from Mr. G. B. Farmer, successor of Col. Miller on the Henderson Times, who wrote as follows: "Through my acquaintance with Bill Cook, I consider him as one of the outstanding negroes of the South today, and for the reason that he is a true man who looks upon the white man as his true friend. WHO'S AHEAD?

The steelworkers, recently on strike

35 days, lost an average of $600 each in wages, and a wage of 10 cents an hour plus "fringe benefits" valued at about $100 a week. Their basic wage rate now averages $2.04 an hour, and with this overall increase of about 12.7% most of them in perhaps two years make up the loss. The executive board of the United

Steel Workers on August 21 approved increases in the salaries of the board members, subject to approval of the rank and file. The new salaries of the board members are: President Murray, $12,000 a year; Vice President, $10,000; Secretary-Treasurer, $8,000; and other members, $6,000. The new salaries of the rank and file are: $2.04 an hour; $1.00 a week for "fringe benefits"; and $1.00 a week for "fringe benefits".

dollars are better than 100-cent dollars because there are more of them. War money helps te boost their number, while the governments gifts to [outalde] [uncertain] countries keeps prices up. That helps [profita,] [uncertain] because the 1? percent on three dollars la three times the amount of the previous 100cent dollars" And then the people? are being leveled off or down. The rich are being prostrated to help the poor but, ig their prostration, they

TIDELANDS.

Texana [gencrully] [uncertain] are as disappointed an their governor, Allan [Shirers,] [uncertain] over Governor Adlai Stevensons stand on the tidelands [(seve.)] [uncertain]

Stevenson Saturday told Shivers) that he agreed with President [Tro-:] [uncertain] mans [yeto] [uncertain] of the bill quit-claiming the [tidelandsto] [uncertain] the states.

Thus Mr. Stevenson has lined him- self up with the centralizers, the [fed-] [uncertain] in point of view that is [completely] [uncertain] at variance with [American] [uncertain] tradition [and] [uncertain] dozens of decisions of the Supreme Court. The new doctrine of paramount rights," under [which}] [uncertain] the present Supreme Court recently awarded ownership of the tideland) to the federal government, is [oppoeed] [uncertain] by the majority in both houses of congress anil by the people as a-whole.

Shivers told Stevenson that he consider? the paramount rights [dor-] [uncertain] trine the must dangerous ever pro-). pounded, adding that he thought it could be applied to the [sciture] [uncertain] of private as well as state [property.—iouston] [uncertain] Chronicle.

LENS ABUNDANT WORK.

A society has been organized to [utlvocate] [uncertain] and create more Monday [holiduyn.] [uncertain] holidays are no longer to celebrate some [hlatoric] [uncertain] event. That significance is no longer considered, The only reason [ailvanced a9] [uncertain] that there may be more leisure time for [seurvhing thre] [uncertain] public highways, more time for road house patronage and more time for the abundant life. They want alt-holidaye changed tw fall [oni] [uncertain] Momlay eo that Saturday, Sunday and Moniay may bring about three days. [af_jecisure cach] [uncertain] week, All af which reminds us of the New [Deals] [uncertain] wanting [Thanksgiving] [uncertain] moved up and [Chriat-] [uncertain] sone put off, regardless of the [Iedermers] [uncertain] original birthday. They wanted more time between their [revelrws.] [uncertain] All want full time pay, but are [deapundent] [uncertain] about full-time work, which [depresace] [uncertain] them [beyusul] [uncertain] utter: [ame] [uncertain]

SHOWS NO IMPROVEMENT.

In a general way, the Courter thinks, Governor Shivers has made a good governor but, we think, his demanding that Adial Stavenson declare himself in favor of returning the tidelands to [Teas] [uncertain] or he would not support him for the presidency was a [poluteal] [uncertain] blunder. The Courier starts with Governor Shivera In his [contentlion] [uncertain] that Tezas [tkielands] [uncertain] belong to Texas and not to the United [States)!] [uncertain] and that Presiden Truman [wae] [uncertain] wrong in vetoing [gislation] [uncertain] pass by [con-] [uncertain] green favoring state ownership of its tideland The only thing gained by [themanding] [uncertain] that Adlsl Stevenson favor state ownership of the [thielands] [uncertain] was in finding out just how Stevenson [pteotd.] [uncertain] But in demanding that a [candkiate] [uncertain] stand for a thing or lose ones [support] [uncertain] politically never has a good effect and will turn the candidates friends against the one making the demand, as it is undeniably pressure polities it therefore counts against any favorable legislation for the tidelands question in the next congress, should [Adie!] [uncertain] be elected. The [Codrier] [uncertain] equally did not like Adlal Stevensons newer. An answer that would have please the Courter editor would have been that he, [Htevenson,] [uncertain] although op- posing state ownership of the tide- lands, would not veto any legislation pecked by the nest congress favoring state [ewnerthip] [uncertain] of the tidelands, The
