Mrs. Earl Bennett assisted the hostess in duties in the living room. The living room looked charming in decorations in keeping with the occasion, and in the hostess' use of a theme of silver and white with touches of green in decorating. Two huge styrofoam bells which glittered and sparkled by the soft lights in the room were placed effectively over the mantel in the living room. One bell had the name "Beth" written on it, and on the other "Bobby." Elsewhere in the room was the effective use of flower arrangements. Guests were then invited into the dining room.

The center of the dining table was arranged with white stock and white glass with a silver filler in a lovely silver bowl. On opposite sides of the table were white candles touched with sparkling silver.

The table cloth itself was exquisitely fashioned of white nylon net edged with silver lace and trimmed here and there with felt balls designed with crystal beads and sequins.

Elsewhere in the dining room the hostess had also effectively used a theme of white and silver in decorating.

Mrs. Ora V. Byrne of Tyler, the groom's grandmother, poured coffee from the lovely silver service for the first hour, with Mrs. John LaGory alternating in duties. Mrs. G. Q.
