SHIVERS" MESSAGE 18
SOUND POLICY.

Governr [Shivers"] [uncertain]
message to the legislature, on the whole, is sound. In the matter of the state budget he finds himself between the devil and the deep [bive sca.] [uncertain] There are [wellfounded] [uncertain] and urgent
demands for large new [expenditurea] [uncertain] against which he must weigh the urgent demand for a jeeveling-off in the tax take. And when we [conaider] [uncertain] tax take we must look at the whole picture, including federal, state and local tares. The federal tax take in Texas twenty years ago averaged about $20 per family. Today it averages about $1,200 per family. [Hb] [uncertain]
recommendations that there be a jod-classification survey to establish relatively fair salary scales for all state employees" might be [extend-] [uncertain] ed to include survey of the need for employees and the efficiency of [thelr] [uncertain] work. Without bringing any charge against the usually worth while
and frequently underpaid state employee,
it can be said that there may be means of saving which would make it [casier]
[uncertain] to raise the [salarica]
[uncertain] of those who deserve raises.
The governors plan for co-ordinating the states plan for higher education touches on a subject that has long needed examination. Texas now has fifteen state-supported [acnior] [uncertain] colleges, excluding branches of the Uni[versity] [uncertain] of Texas and Texas
Agricvli [tural] [uncertain] and Mechazical College. To what extent is there duplication of effort? His recommendation for amendment ef the Gilmer-Aiken act is in line

with the tendency to [equalisa]

Texas. The growth of great urban centers

TIDELANDS RESOURCES.

[President] [uncertain] Truman,
stubborn and" spiteful to the end, either
unable to read the election returns or bent upon) embarrassing the new administration despite [hls] [uncertain]
frequent protestations of full cooperation,
has declared the submerged offshore lands
to be a naval [oll] [uncertain] reserve.

He transferred the federal govern-!
[ments dublous] [uncertain] claim to the tidelands from the [nterior] [uncertain]
department, where it had been lodged since the supreme court asserted the governments paramount rights" in the states" his- [torica]] [uncertain] seaward boundary, to the navy."

Crockett Courier — January 29, 1953

The president, like some modern. Canute ordering the tide not to come up, seeks to stop the inevitable confirmation of the states' rights by appealing to the nations fear and its, respect for [ite] [uncertain] armed forces it has been, and till is," be said, my firm conviction that it would [be}] [uncertain] even height of folly [fgr] [uncertain] the United States to give away the vast quantities of [ci]] [uncertain] contained in the [cuntinental] [uncertain] shelf and then buy back this [eame oll] [uncertain] at stiff prices for use by the army, the navy and the air force in the defense of the nation." j The fact is that the United States cannot give away" the resources of the tidelands [beesuse] [uncertain] it does not own" them. The supreme court specifically avoided using the word ownership" in its decisions in the Tezaa, [Louisiana] [uncertain] and California cases. It was on the weak assertion of paramount rights" that the president seized the tidelands.

The president [acized] [uncertain] the [sicel] [uncertain] com- [panies,] [uncertain] too, but the supreme court ruled that he had overstepped his [av-] [uncertain] thorite, Congress twice has declared that Mr. Truman overstepped his [ev-] [uncertain] [thority] [uncertain] in seizing the tidelands, by, [Foting] [uncertain] bills [quitclaiming] [uncertain] the [eub-] [uncertain] merged lands to the states.

There have been too many of these" Instances of [rxeculire] [uncertain] attempt to [eet] [uncertain] up virtual one-man rule in the past v years, beginning with [Preeident] [uncertain]

[Rogsevelts] [uncertain] most legislation" imper- [jously] [uncertain] pent over to congress and the [aticmpt] [uncertain] to pack the supreme court.

Let us hope that Mr. Trumans latest move, taken just five days before he leaves office, will be the last of that.

Ours is w [government] [uncertain] of laws, not [lef] [uncertain] men a government in which each of three co-ordinate branches is armed with checks and balances. The [American] [uncertain] people intend that it shall-Le kept that [way.—Housteon] [uncertain]

[FREKDOM] [uncertain]
LOSES A CHAMPION.

The death Friday night of Peter" Molyneaux takes from the [Amrrican. acene une] [uncertain] of the nations most militant [champlons] [uncertain] of Individual freedom. Mr. Molyneaux had for the past 20 years been an [vutapoken critle] [uncertain] of regimen: [tation] [uncertain] and control and in the early days of the New Deal was one of the first to foresee and warn against creeping control.

His Southern Weekly [wae] [uncertain] widely read and frequently quoted, and so well-founded in fact were Mr. [Molyneauxs] [uncertain] published statements that we cannot recall of him ever having to publish a retraction or correction. His forte in later years was to take current development and by quoting [earlicr] [uncertain] writings show that it was part of the pattern of control. Last year he received the Freedom Foundation award for editorial writing.

He was well-versed in economics and history. On [sereral] [uncertain] occasions he attended economic conferences abroad and appeared before congressional committees dealing with economic matters. One of his principal interests had to do with the effect of production controls and protective tariffs on the world market for United States cotton.

Mr. Molyneaux was student of United States history, especially as it [pertained] [uncertain] to the South. His Romantic Story of [Texas"] [uncertain] is one of the most [ceslly] [uncertain] read accounts of the art- Uement of Texas and the events

BOOKLET TELLS OF AACS ORPHANAGE IN KOREA

Hy Hattle Belle Milburn.

We with that each of you who are; [Interested] [uncertain] in missionary work In foreign [fhelda] [uncertain] could read more of the AACS Orphanage in Korea.

It was our privilege to read the little booklet Col. Jack Ford had sent hie mother, Mrs. Rosalle Ford of 110 [Lary] [uncertain] Lane street, last week and since the AACS boys are so worthy of being [recognised"] [uncertain] for their fine work with [thie] [uncertain] orphanage [(which] [uncertain] is over and above their line of duty) we thought we would pase some of the [inforroation] [uncertain] which ws found in the booklet on to you who read the last article.

Firat of [al}} [uncertain] the AACS Orphanage in Korea is sponsored by the [Ifeadquarters 18jftth] [uncertain] Alrways and Alr Commualeation Bervice Mobile Com- [munications] [uncertain] group the [197Ird Alr-] [uncertain] ways and Air Communication [Service] [uncertain]

Former and present members of the'

Airways and Alr Communications

Service In Korea who hate given so generously of [thelr] [uncertain] time and money have made the orphanage possible for these [lltthe] [uncertain] homeless children in the war torn land of Kores. We quote from the booklet:

The home established by AACS men in Kores Is [dealgnd] [uncertain] to care for 60 children whose parents have been killed since that fateful day in June [Jwhen] [uncertain] unbridled Communist aggres- Jalon turned its fury upon helpless people.

Even though the country could not be conquered, the children could be through fear, hunger, disease and In [Jtume] [uncertain] the country could be [strengthenedod] [uncertain] and conquered through the enil- drew. But [etvengthen] [uncertain] the children, [1}} [uncertain] physically, mentally and spiritually and the country ia strengthened, able lo defy aggression. AACS ta de- signed to implement and [strengther] [uncertain] the four freedoms; Freedom of Fear, freedom from Want, Freedom of Re lion and Freedom of the Preas tr

Korea.

The children arrived al the orphan age [rightened,] [uncertain] half starved and th thin rags.jhey.wore did TITte to hey out the biting cold. They were almost lifeless, They neither talked no [amiled] [uncertain] among themselves or to any [ene] [uncertain] else. Like animals, they more when told to move, sat when told, struggled to [atand] [uncertain] on their feet [when] [uncertain] told," we read with amazement from) the little bucket.

Those who were there that night when they arrived will never forget). From reek, downtrodden [animala,}] [uncertain] these children became human once more with [amiles,] [uncertain] laughter and af-), [fectlon] [uncertain] in a mere four hours. Thle [camefrom] [uncertain] warmth, good food, [clean]] [uncertain] clothes, and most important of all, the love shown by the American [alrmen,] [uncertain] Rut before that, the sight of the wretched children huddled about the heater brought tears to men who thought they were hardened to exiat- [ence] [uncertain] in Korea.

The best possible supper had been prepared, and the smell of good food and the warmth of the fire soon prompted the children to cast aby glance about and [occaalonally] [uncertain] speak ta one another.

Most arrivals came [frem] [uncertain] over- crowded and poorly operated orphan-

Ages. But other arrivals came from a [vadety] [uncertain] of sources, also. A small girl [wae] [uncertain] brought in by ao airman from Headquarters [118th] [uncertain] AACS group who had been seen [carryng] [uncertain] tin can, poking in garbage piles and begging food. She was living on the [streetat] [uncertain] She was only fire years old.

Two boys were [brodght] [uncertain] to the home by airmen from an AACs advance operating [locatlon.] [uncertain] They, too, were dirty, in rags, undernourished, and [sutfering] [uncertain] the usual diseases. Another child wan [secn] [uncertain] sitting by the road by [lan] [uncertain] officer of the 181Bth division. He passed by, but the image of her bloated stomach and tooth-pick arms and Jegs would not leave him. Later, with an interpreter he returned, found the child and her two starving brothers sing with dying grafmdo- other In a bell damaged mud shack. Eye disease, extreme malnutrition and the accompanying enlarged liver and rickety were matters for these [chili} dren] [uncertain] to overcome later ut the orphan-

This Christmas was far from the [1}] [uncertain] Christmse of December 1950, for it was in December 1960 that the [1918th 5}] [uncertain] AACs men found out the need to really start an orphanage n Koree, ti such as this. [s]} [uncertain] Here we shall let Col. Jack Ford [s]} [uncertain] take over to tell you n [hia] [uncertain] own words [Just] [uncertain] what this Christmas was like: Christmas day, went out to party at the orphanage. Never [wil] [uncertain] alone ever see anything lke it. From the booklet we again quote: These children are now getting a feeling of security and the confidence that comes only from how they are loved by sympathetic and understand-Ing adults. They now are getting a chance, an opportunity to grow and develop as their ability permits a basle right of all individuals," said

Captain Walter J. Deal, editor of the little booklet.

A well rounded program is in ef- [fect] [uncertain] for these children and while It ja being [malntained] [uncertain] through the do- nations from members of the AACs and their enlightened families [aod] [uncertain] friends back in the states the very existence of the [bome] [uncertain] depends also upon contributions from church groups and
