KIRBYVILLE HERE THURSDAY NIGHT LAST CAGE GAME

Coach Glen Buffaloe's Kirbyville High Wildcats will play the Crockett High Bulldogs in the high school gym tonight (Thursday) as the curtain is rung down on the district 17-A basketball season, so far as Coach Robert Summers' Bulldogs are concerned.

Our last report was that Kirbyville, following champion, was runner-up to Livingston for the district lead.

Kirbyville defeated Crockett handsly on the Wildcats' floor in the first round of games, although the B game was fairly close.

Through last week's play, the Bulldogs had not won a game this season. Lack of height and experience has weighed heavily against the local quintet all season. The Bulldogs B team had won one game.

THREE PASSENGER TRAINS EACH WAY AGAIN HERE

The Missouri Pacific formerly operated three trains each way a day between St. Louis and Houston. Those trains were known as the Sunshine Special, the Texas and the Southern.

When the steam-lined Diesel-powered Texas Eagle was installed in passenger service, it was intended that the Texas Eagle would take the place of the Texas, the early morning train southbound and the late afternoon train northbound. Thus there would be two fast trains in each direction—the Eagle and the Sunshine Special. But it did not work out that way. The Eagle not only filled up, but took over the Sunshine Special's passenger business to such extent that the Sunshine Special had to be discontinued by the railroad company. In the meantime the Texas had been put into operation between St. Louis and Houston via Palestine and Valley Junction. That schedule of operation did not prove profitable, and the railroad was given permission to discontinue operation on that line. The Texas, replaced by the Eagle, is now given another trial between St. Louis and Houston. Having been discontinued via Valley Junction, it is again running between St. Louis and Houston via Palestine and Valley Junction. The Sunshine Special continues to operate between St. Louis, Dallas and Fort Worth, while the Texas Eagle continues to operate between St. Louis, Dallas and Fort Worth.

New officers will be elected at this meeting. Officers now serving are: Roy Brannen Jr., president; Henry Rainey, vice-president; and Jeff C. Krenk, secretary-treasurer.
