Cottonseed Fertilized.

Tyler, Texas, March 5.—Cotton planting seeds are being fumigated at chemical centers operating this week at Smith county cotton gin. The purpose is to clear the seeds of possible pink bollworm infestation prior to the opening of the planting season. County Agricultural Agent Ben Browning estimated that some 150,000 pounds of the county's cottonseed supply is infested. He urged that none of it be planted unless it is fumigated to prevent future worm ravages of the cotton crop.

JUNIOR SENIORS GET "STARS IN THEIR EYES" FRIDAY NIGHT

H. B. Milburn, Commenting.

The Junior-Senior prom was held Friday night, March 13, with some two hundred students attending this long awaited, long anticipated school event of the year.

This brilliant affair was held at the Crockett High School auditorium. The auditorium had been transformed into a beautifully decorated garden; the theme in decorations carrying out the effect of an outdoor garden scene by the use of crepe paper and similar which formed an alder or canopy overhead. The side walls of the auditorium were the effect of a garden scene with designs in scrolls, oriental writings, fans and colorful motifs in keeping with the theme and spiced here and there with the use of crepe paper and similar which formed an alder or canopy overhead.

We left them with "fare-in-thanks" and returned to the beginning of the prom. The prom was in full swing, and well destined to long be remembered by the Junior-Senior class of 1953.

They travelled they looked and were repaid.

Mrs. Grace Shivers, Mrs. Morris Westinghouse of Grapevine, Mrs. G. G. King returned from their tour of Louisiana and Alabama where they saw the beautiful scenery and camellias blooming at the height of their loveliness.

They stayed in Natchez, Mobile, New Orleans and New Iberia on their sight-seeing tour.

In Mobile they spent two days with Miss Emma Craddock, well known and loved by the school, who is spending the school term of the year teaching in Mobile, and they report that they were most graciously entertained by her.

As for the snakes and camellias they were something beyond description in loveliness, and truly worth any one's time to see.

LOVELADY MEETING TO EXPLAIN NATIONAL GUARD

Captain Kevin L. Barrett, commander of the National Guard unit, will meet with the young men and all other interested citizens of the Lovelady area Thursday night, March 19, to explain what the National Guard is and the opportunities which it offers to young men of military age or who are about to become of military age. The meeting will be held at the Lovelady school at 8 p. m.

The discussion is designed especially for young men and their parents, but it is requested that all persons who are interested in the National Guard in any way attend the meeting. Captain Barrett points out that the National Guard is of interest directly or indirectly to all people in all walks of life.

At twelve o'clock the mothers of members in the junior class assisted the junior class members in women's duties in serving the following menu: Lamb chops, baked potatoes, green beans, lima beans, corn, applesauce, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie.

These mothers who acted as hostesses were dressed in oriental fashion to lead additional charm and effect to the prom Friday night. Mrs. James Hoffer was chairman in charge of food. Mrs. Louisa Dawson, chairman of decorations. Other assisting were Mrs. Bonnie Ellis, Mrs. Hugh McWilliams, Mrs. Reed Ferguson, Mrs. Earl McCain and Mrs. Lou Cook.

Teacher sponsors for the senior class were Mrs. W. F. Churchill and Mrs. Elmer Hester. Teacher sponsors for the junior class were Mrs. Mabel Gossel and Mrs. Eleanor Patton. Junior class officials were Carolyn McPhee, president; Jack Lyon, vice president; and Carolyn Hall, secretary. Senior class sponsors are Donnie Reynolds, president; Bobby Worthington, vice president; and L. S. Sheppard Jr., secretary.

The high school teachers and their wives were first seated for the prom. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, Mrs. Mabel Gossel, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Patton Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. George Reed, Mrs. Boone Hester, and Mrs. Moore, Coach Owen, and the former football coach, Coach Simmons.

For the junior and senior students who attended the prom Friday night... never in the history of high school proms did the juniors and seniors present receive so many rare and so to the way they looked for this especially special occasion. Charming, delightful and attractive would be just a few words to describe this beautiful teenage group. All were as one in blossoming into full beauty that night.

Each charming young lady was given an exquisite new formal, and no doubt it was her own explicit choosing for this occasion of occasions. Each seemingly had invested heavily in taste, but lightly in the mood for matching the hours for waiting through the evening at the high school prom.

Even the high school football heroes and heroines of these fair teenagers looked handsome and well groomed in a special occasion sort of way. We couldn't stay to watch from the sidelines long. Spectators were not allowed after nine. The balcony up until that time though was filled to overflowing, and with little, if any, standing room left. Proud parents of members of the junior-senior class, friends, uncles, cousins, aunts, little as and even junior were on hand to watch this teenage group. But at nine, all in the balcony were lightly, but firmly told "Good-night."

We left them with "fare-in-thanks" and returned to the beginning of the prom. The prom was in full swing, and well destined to long be remembered by the Junior-Senior class of 1953.

They travelled they looked and were repaid.

COTTON PRICE SUPPORTS SET FOR YEAR 1953

The national average price support for 1953 crop upland cotton will be at least 30.80 cents per pound, the Department of Agriculture has announced. This represents 90 per cent of the current parity price and is in advance of the season, as required by legislation. If parity is higher as of next August 1, the level of price support will be increased accordingly.

At the same time the support was announced, farmers were again cautioned against overproduction of cotton this year. Primarily because exports are falling off and because the cotton crop is being permitted to rebuild reserve stocks, it is considered necessary to produce as much cotton as possible to meet the needs of the world market.

Based on present estimates, farmers are urged to plant less than five acres of cotton this year for each 12 1/2 million bales now appears desirable in 1953, which would require reduction of about 18 per cent nationally based on 1952 planting.

Meantime, a cottonseed advisory committee, meeting recently in Washington to study operations of the cottonseed price support program and to suggest possible revisions, has recommended development of a program for the 1953 cottonseed crop to be carried out through loans to and purchases from producers at 50 per cent of the parity price.

J. Lynn Mauk, Administrative Officer, Houston County PMA.

OLD-TIME CITIZEN PASSES TO REWARD

Lovelady, Texas, March 14, 1953.

Editor Crockett Courier:

On March 7 the community of Prairie Point was saddened by the sudden passing of Mrs. Betty Rhodes. At the time she was in her eighties she was strong and active. She lost her husband many years ago so had to provide for and rear her kind and wonderful to her yet she preferred to live alone.

Her family was very kind and wonderful to her yet she preferred to live alone.

She was so attached to her old home she never seemed to tire of keeping it and surroundings in beautiful condition. She was a very kind and wonderful person and she was a very kind and wonderful person.

NEED IS GREAT THEN WON'T YOU ANSWER THE CALL?

The month of March is designated as Red Cross Month throughout the United States. In most places the drive was started on schedule, but the Houston county drive has been delayed due to the Houston county tornado and the many applications for assistance that had to be processed.

In a meeting Monday night of volunteer workers, A. R. Jimmerson, county drive chairman, pointed out that the quota for Houston county is $5,000. Half of this amount will remain in the county and the other half will be sent to the national chapter for use in the armed forces and in disaster areas, such as the one in Houston county early this month.

Over $5,000 was sent out this month by the national chapter to assist those in need after the tornado.

Mr. Jimmerson is being assisted by Mrs. Hattie Allen and Mrs. L. J. Porter. Other chairmen, as appointed by Mr. Jimmerson, are: Grapevine, Mr. Morris; Lataste, Mrs. L. J. Porter; Porter Springs, Mrs. W. L. Batts; colored general chairman, W. M. B

VERY. IMPORTANT BULLETIN ON CASTOR BEAN

*[illegible or non-text passage omitted —
see scan]*

A. [M—The] [uncertain] 1953 Castor Bean pro- gram announcement for Houston county, printed on page 3, has just been amended, according to J. Lynn

Mauk, administrative officer of the focal PMA,

Mr. Mauk was informed just before we went to press that plenty of castor beans will be available for [Houston] [uncertain] county growers, and therefore there twill be no restrictions as to the [ngm] [uncertain] [ber] [uncertain] of beans or acres available to any one producer of any one farm.

This increase in acreage by the stale

PMA office means that Houston county [growera] [uncertain] can plant around 1500 to 5000 acres instead of the B70 acres as previously announced. J. Lynn Mauk, Administrative Officer, Houston County PMA.
