[uncertain] headed. It has been only because of heavy feeding an added expense that has [eercely] [uncertain] pinched many stockmen financially, and because of mild weather.

Livestock herds in the dry [arcas] [uncertain] of Oklahoma [amd Texas] [uncertain] have been further reduced g3 the drought has cut deeper into [rariges] [uncertain] and pastures, report to Merrill showed. In Maverick county of [southweat] [uncertain] Texas, where cultivated land is under irrigation, the cattle wintered in fair condition, but this [wes] [uncertain] because only [25'+] [uncertain] of the normal animal population remained, and they have been on feed for some time. Beventy five per cent of the normal cattle population had been sold off or shipped to other areas for pasturage. In Irion and Reagan counties of Texaa ninety per [ernt] [uncertain] of the cattle and eighty per cent of the sheep herds bad been sold of shipped out. Stockmen in Howard, Martin, Borden and Scurry counties had sold or shipped out [BO™%] [uncertain] of their cattle.

[Eighty] [uncertain] per cent of the normal cat- Ue population of Jottawatomie county in OkJahoma and two thirds per cent of the cattle of Creer county have been sold or shipped away Merrill said his field report showed. [Oklshoma] [uncertain] counties in which cattle herds have [bren] [uncertain] reduced by twenty five per cent or more because of the drought include Nowata, Seminole, Greer, Grant, Tillman, [Pushmataha,] [uncertain] Washita, Muskogee, Arbuckle, Kiowa, Kingfiaher and Sequoyah.

Wajer supplies for Uvestock in atlas baring wells are adequate and in no immediate danger, Mernil add, but in some arras where stockmen depend on surface supplies, the source has dried up and water i being brought in.

One af the present threats is the lack of [ertough] [uncertain] moisture to plant! [tpring] [uncertain] crops, Including corn and cotton, the field reports to Merrill showed. Field men of SCS report that more than fifty counties In Texas and over 23 counties in [Oklahoma] [uncertain] de not have enough moisture for spring planting. [(Texas cocntics:) [uncertain] Donley, Tom Green, Wilbargrer, Taylor, [Stertnng,] [uncertain] Glasecock, Uvalde, Swisher, Moore, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Motley, Carson, Terry, Concho, Cochran, Irion, Reagan, Lamb, Howard, Dawron, Midland, [Crane,] [uncertain] Ector, Jones, Martin, Lynn, [Borden,] [uncertain] Scurry, Schleicher, Clay, Shackelford, Collins, Worth, Hall, Young, Starr, Mitchell, Garta, Gainca, Winkler, Ward, Hockley, Wheeler, Hale, Val Verde, Foard, [LaSalle,] [uncertain] Baylor, Throckmorton, [Sul-] [uncertain] ton and [Edwards]) [uncertain]

Oklahoma counties: Cimarron, Texas, Beaver, Harper, Ellu, Woodward, Major, Woods, Comanche, Sem- Incle, Garvin, Creer, Washita, Beckham, Kiowa, Kingfisher, Leave, Hughes, Cherokee, Canadian, Logan, Jefferson, Cleveland, Alfalfs, Roger Milla, Creek and Dewey.

The drought has [sernously] [uncertain] affected application of sell [cunsevation prartices,] [uncertain] Merrill stated. In many [inatances] [uncertain] farmers have not been able to begin certain conservation [practiers] [uncertain] such as the planting of cover crepe because the land has been tow [ary,] [uncertain]

In some soil conservation districts of the [drovght] [uncertain] area," Merrill said, reports from our technicians show that the application of conservation work has been curtailed as much as [ROT,] [uncertain]

The drought, however, has increased farmer interest in conservation work, the field men agree. Practices that were established before the drought or during mure favorable pe: [riods] [uncertain] in the drought have paid good dividends. Farmers have [indleated] [uncertain] a rowing interest to using their land within its capacities and giving it needed conservation treatment, Merrill [naid.] [uncertain] They are making an earnest effort to [krep] [uncertain] corer, either living of dead, on their land throughout the year.

But what about the local situation, Mr. Elders?" we asked.

The local situation is good. We are in good shape for planting crops. The average rainfall since October has been 16.32. The rainfall) for February alone [wae] [uncertain] 6.18. In bo twenty-four hour period did we hare over 1.80 inches in February meaning that practically all rainfall went into the ground for conservation, future crops, [ete.] [uncertain]

From information we received approximately fifteen per cent of [catue] [uncertain] in this [arem] [uncertain] heave been told due to drought conditions, lack of feed, [etc.] [uncertain] Many of the farmers have sold calves earlier than usual to save in feed but about eighty [flre] [uncertain] per cent normal animal population remains.

[(Several] [uncertain] hundred farmers in this area received emergency hay through October through March 4. Some one thousand five hundred and sixty [cight] [uncertain] tons of hay has been shipped Into this area by freight, or some 121 car loads of hay have been [recelréd] [uncertain] by [farmera] [uncertain] here under [thie] [uncertain] emergency plan.) tAlthough the farmers have complained about fred being high, and [thet] [uncertain] cattle hare been bought or sold eo cheap, they are in a better shape how [thatdhe] [uncertain] drought hae been broken by good rains. Ranchers in drought [arcas wil] [uncertain] start restocking their farms: This will increase dividends which are bound to come.

Frouin the local standpoint, the future in [crope] [uncertain] and cattle looks good. With plenty of [moleture] [uncertain] that has prov- en po beneficial in this area for cover crops and cattle it looks as though good [fortane] [uncertain] may [amile] [uncertain] on the Davy Crockett-Trinity county district, for, as is sometimes the [caac,] [uncertain] other [coun tice] [uncertain] misfortune may be our coop! FORTUNE after all, this year."

Sume people complain, but from the local standpoint in this matter, things for this county look very, very [vod] [uncertain] as compared to other [countics,] [uncertain] We have Jota to be thankful for.
