U. S. FARM STORE OF FARM PRODUCTS

The federal government, in trying to keep the prices of farm products from dropping, has built up an enormous stockpile of agricultural products and nobody seems to know what to do with them. A recent survey showed the Department of Agriculture holding products valued at more than $1,000,000,000. This included: 27,000,000 pounds of butter; 27,000,000 pounds of peanuts; 22,000,000 pounds of cheese; 262,000,000 bushels of corn; 225,000,000 gallons of turpentine; 26,000,000 pounds of dried milk; 236,000 bales of cotton; 185,000,000 pounds of linseed oil; 124,000,000 bushels of wheat; 421,000,000 pounds of cottonseed oil; 130,000 pounds of wool; 4,000,000 pounds of tobacco; and 1,500,000 100-pound bags of beans.

What is the government going to do with all of these products? It might be suggested that the government turn them over to the military forces, thereby saving millions of dollars on the military budget. But that would take away from the farmers one of their biggest markets and would damage them more than a price drop. And it was to keep prices from dropping that the government acquired

REPORT FROM THE LEGISLATURE

James McLean of Augusta, W. H. Woodall of Huntsville, Dick Crow of Elkhart and Stephen Halmak. Earle Adams Esq. went to Houston on business.

LO. THE WETHACK.

Already the Rio Grande is feeling the pressure of a new surge of Mexican workers. In January the Border Patrol captured and sent home 5,000 wethacks. That figure compared with 35,000 in January of last year. This year, officials are sending the wethacks home by bus. They went by train last year, and in 1951 by an expensive air lift.

A PLAN FOR TIPLERS.

J. W. Gay, publisher of the Moody Courier, one of the few remaining hand-set newspapers in the country, recently editorialized on the high cost of liquor and had some advice for those who just can't do without. His editorial read:

"If you cannot absolutely refrain from drinking, start a saloon in your own home. Be the only customer and you will not have to buy a license."

"Give your wife $12 to buy a gallon of whiskey. There are 128 ounces in a gallon. Buy all your drinks from your wife at 40 cents a quart, and in four days, when the gallon is gone, your wife will have $39.20 to put into the bank and will have $12 to start up in business again."

"If you live 10 years and continue to buy all your booze from your wife, then die with $39,200.00 on deposit—enough to bury you respectfully, bring up your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and forget she ever knew you."—30 More than half this amount would have gone to pay the tax on this sum.
