TO FIRE OR RE-FIRE

Each year in June thousands of eager young men, just out of high) [achool] [uncertain] or college, start out to find their places in the puniness world. They present an opportunity to older businessmen for [hofpfulness,] [uncertain] first job. Few boys know in advance what they want to do f you will read the biographies of moat great business leaders you will find that chance and accident and kindly interest of some older man guided hie footsteps in the paths he later trod with [aucceas] [uncertain] and distinction. A young college graduate recency told a big businessman, with whom he was discussing his future, that everything has already been done." The older man pointed out to him that the more problems there are in this challenging new age, the more opportunities there are far service,
