10,000 HEAR FIDDLERS AT 17TH CROCKETT FESTIVAL

Crockett—A J. Meers of Lubbock, 61-year-old newcomer to the annual Fiddlers' Festival here, was named the new national champion here at 9:40 p. m. Friday.

He was the winner in a field of 41 individual fiddlers, eliminating Marvin Womack of Dallas in the finals.

Meers earlier had won the 60 to 75-year-old division of the contest. Womack was the winner of the division up to 60 years old.

Runners-up in the latter division were: Mr. Franklin of Denton and Jesse Johnson of Crockett.

Miss Paula Ann White of Loveland was named the new festival queen. She was crowned by Miss Marjorie Dues of Pennington, last year's queen.

Alton Allen's band of Athens captured first place in the band contest. Runners-up were Red Carter's band of Houston and Franklin's of Denton.

By James O. Healey.

Post Correspondent.

Crockett—Everybody has a favorite kind of music and for most of the people here in the heart of Houston county it is fiddle music.

Friday, for the 17th time, thousands of them came out to watch and hear a record fall of fiddlers and string band performances.

It was the 17th annual Fiddlers' Festival and it had 41 individual fiddlers with accompanists and nine out-of-county bands.

The festival was held in honor of a former national fiddling champion, Barker Tunnell, who died last February. A coronation was held and the coronation contest.

About 10,000 persons flocked all kinds of weather during the day to see the performances.

Early Friday morning the weather was bright, but not humid. Later that turned into rain, which drenched 2,500 fiddlers before they could reach shelter.

Four individual fiddle champions, the outstanding band and a festival queen, were named.

Two of the four champions had been named early Friday night by Judge Marshall Lake of Wharton.

NEW WOODBINE FIND ATTRACTS INTEREST

Interest in the Woodbine sand stimulated recently in Houston county by a Woolly Petroleum Co. and Moran Corporation discovery may be further boosted by a successful test of that section in Grimes county by Houston operators, J. J. and Wesley West.

Other exploratory activity reported Thursday included a new gas-distillate discovery in Jasper county.

The Wests, gauged 304 barrels of oil a day through a quarter-inch choke from 8,200 feet from the Woodbine Deister sand.

This is the first time that formation has produced oil anywhere in that area.

Recently, the Houston Post reported the Woodbine discovery by Woolly Petroleum Co. as being the first time that section has been found commercially productive that far to the south. Closest production from the Woodbine in Houston county is 15 miles to the north.

The West discovery is a considerable distance south of this, spotting about 25 miles southwest of the Woodbine and Moran discovery, the J. B. Eaton Estate.

The West well is in the Mrs. Belle Harrison, 514 and Wesley West, near the Madison county line.

It is on a 316-acre lease in the A. B. Deason survey.

Other production in the area of the West find is from the sub-Clarksville and Georgetown line zones.

Ada Oil Co. and Pure Oil Co. recently opened up new oil production north of Buna in Jasper county.

Thursday, in the same area, the firm reported a new gas-distillate discovery.

The 2 Hardy Richardson, in the John Johnson survey, A-21 and one section in the West survey, which confirmed oil production, flowed 2 million cubic feet of gas a day in addition to 40 barrels of distillate through a 1/4-inch choke.

Bottomhole pressure was 3,000 pounds, shut in pressure 3,000 pounds and flowing pressure 2,500 pounds. Perforations were made in the Yates between 8,200-8,250 feet.

COURIER EDITOR AMONG FRIENDS AT CONVENTION

Yes, the Courier editor was out of town last week. He was at Mineral Wells. No, he did not go to "drink some crazy water." He didn't need it. He was in attendance upon a Texas Press Association convention, a constant seeker of knowledge, having attended the mid-winter meeting in Austin, the Gulf Coast meeting in Beaumont, the South Texas meeting in San Antonio and the North and East Texas meeting in Jacksonville. The Mineral Wells meeting was his fifth for the year.

When he returned this morning, he was a man of new knowledge, new acquaintances and new friends. He was never going to learn anything and if all these conventions were necessary for us to run a newspaper, he would stay out of the newspaper business. So at last our friend, Mr. Millard, is removed as a possible newspaper competitor.</

COURIER EDITOR AMONG FRIENDS [AT CONVENTION] [uncertain]

Yes, the Courier editor [waa] [uncertain] out of B town just week. He was at Miners! Well. No, he did not go to drink some [craty] [uncertain] water." He didn't [need}] [uncertain] it. He was in attendance upon Texas Press Association contention. He is constant seeker of knowledge, having attended the mid-winter meeting in Austin, the Gulf Coast meeting in Beaumont, the South Texas meeting in San Antonio and the North and East Texas meeting in Jacksonville. The Mineral Wells meeting was his fifth for the year.

When we related this accomplishment of acquirement to Friend Milldew, he wanted to know if we were never going to learn anything and if all these conventions were necessary for us to acquire some newspaper knowledge, if and if these things were necessary for us to run newspaper, he would stay out of the newspaper [busifiess,] [uncertain] So at last our friend,

Mr. Milldew, is removed as possible newspaper competitor.

The Mineral [Welle] [uncertain] convention was opened Friday morning with registration in the lobby of the Baker hotel.

At clock it was called to order by the associations president, Editor

William Rawland, editor of the Cleburne [uncertain] Times-Review. The invocation was by Arthur Lefevre Jr. honorary life member from Houston.
