Id rather [ree] [uncertain] than be one Geiett Burress. [5] [uncertain]

Long before Mr. Burgess wrote his [borine] [uncertain] commentary half [2] [uncertain] century age the dairy industry was a fertile field for folk-lore, old wives" tales and [superetitlons] [uncertain] that would give the blob to the purple cow.

One of the moat [cummen ond] [uncertain] widespread of there misconceptions was that thunder would sear milk. Some of the quibblers on this [subject] [uncertain] maintained it was the ozone released in the atmosphere by lightening that did the harm. Whichever the [riewpoint,] [uncertain] modern science [anys theres] [uncertain] nothing to it. Thunder, being merely [alr] [uncertain] vi rations, has no more effect on milk than a dairy-warker who [sing»] [uncertain] basho [profundo.] [uncertain]

Anether popular myth had to do with the alleged milking of cows by hedgehogs, black enates and other [varminta] [uncertain] As bong [agv] [uncertain] as 1767 [Stephen] [uncertain] Fovargue, in his New Catalogue of Vulgar Error," pointed out that the process of milking requites the creation of a vacuum. The throat and hung af the pries names ate [restppulled] [uncertain] for this function, and as Fovargue remarks, if he ie air te procure no other food but what he cab get by sucking cows io the night, there is likely ta be a vacuum in his stomach [tou!"] [uncertain]

A bucolic sense of poesy was probably responsible for the old [English] [uncertain] theory that buttercup in a cows diet improve the" quality of her milk. A [acientifyc oleervation] [uncertain] would have disclosed the fact that cows carefully [ahun] [uncertain] ranunculus [bulbreus.] [uncertain] The only recorded instance of bovine with penchant for [bluome] [uncertain] of this type appears to be that of Ferdinand the Bull.

In the care and feeding of Infants it used to be widely held that cows milk and mothers milk do met agree." and [furthermure] [uncertain] that nursery milk should all be from one cow, Todsy, of course, [formules] [uncertain] using cows milk are widely used both as supplemental and exclusive diets for babies.

TIME 18 THE BIG FACTOR.

A bill has been introduced in congress which would require the Interstate Commerce commission to act within 40 days when the railroads apply for rate adjustments made ne- [cessary] [uncertain] by Increased operating costs.

In the view of [experta,] [uncertain] this bill would correct serious and long-standing

[Inequality—and] [uncertain] it would go long way toward restoring basic stability to the [rafiroads"] [uncertain] financial position.

Recent experience demonstrates

[Just Row] [uncertain] Important this proposed bill in. Since World War UI, the railroads found it necessary to petition the ICC for rate increases on four occasions, due to soaring wages and material costs.s
The [elapedc] [uncertain] time between the [(Wing] [uncertain] of the petitions and [ICCs] [uncertain] final decisions averaged 286 [daye—or] [uncertain] alone and one-half months: In one case there wan a delay af 380 days. The railroads were required to operate all this time with inadequate [revenves—] [uncertain] ae Ip witnessed by the fact that in each instance ICC finally granted sub- [stantial] [uncertain] Increases.

Ask any businessman, small or large, what it would mean to him if he had to all his goods and services at [a»] [uncertain] fixed price, while the cost of labor and everything else he had to buy went up and up. The railroads are no different from any other busi- ness In the [reaspect—and,] [uncertain] In addition, they must pay for a tremendous ex- [pansion] [uncertain]
