LT. JOHN R. KING SAW ACTION IN KUMSONG AREA

By Mattie Belle Milburn.

Monday we talked with Mrs. John King, and of her son, Lt. John R. King Jr., who is stationed in Korea.

Lt. King has just been promoted to First Lt. King of his battalion, which is the 16th Armored Field Battalion.

An article written in Time magazine for June 27 mentions the battle of Korea at the Kumsong area. This is an area in which the 16th Armored Field Battalion has recently seen action, and plenty of it. We quote from Time magazine:

"On this mountainous central front, 17,000 Chinese Reds hit the crack ROK Capital Division and three other South Korean units in the heaviest enemy attack in two years. There were 26 assaults on an 18-mile sector, along that part of the front that bulged north through the 'L' of Iron Triangle and passed just below Kumsong. Under overwhelming force, the ROKs wavered and broke. Some went back as far as ten miles before they were regrouped and turned around. At one place the Chinese captured a U. S. half track mounting four 30-caliber machine guns. When a group of ronealed South Koreans, shuffling back to the rear, saw the half track, they turned, thinking it was in friendly hands. The Chinese in the vehicle pressed the firing button and held it down. Luckily the ROKs who survived the Chinese apparently did not know how to reload, and when the 30s stopped firing they jumped out and disappeared. One U. S. artillery crew, fighting through the loss of their weapons, fired point-blank at on-coming Reds and escaped with their gun."

It was learned that the 16th Armored Field Battalion was one of the units which was backing up the ROKs along the supply road called "The Goat Trail."

"The crew had to destroy their guns with grenades before they fell back; and one U. S. artillery battalion lost 300 to killed and captured," stated Time magazine.

Lt. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. John King of this city, received a face wound in action with the enemy at Kumsong.

The 16th Armored Field Battalion has received a citation from the president for outstanding performance for outstanding performance in action against the enemy in the vicinity of Kumsong during the period of the 1st to 15th of June.

LIONS LEARN ABOUT SCOUTS TRIP TO JAMBOREE

By Mattie Belle Milburn.

At a meeting of the Lions' Club Tuesday three Boy Scouts—Edward Darsy, Johnny Driskell and William Paul Faver—and their Scoutmaster, Joe B. Robert, were present as guests of the club. These Scouts and their Scoutmaster have recently returned from the Boy Scout Jamboree in California, and each gave a brief resume of their interesting trip. The three other Scouts attending the Jamboree in California were out of town, and could not be present at the Lions' Club meeting Tuesday. They are Frank Smith, Jr., Bubba Dickey and Bert Hervey.

Frank Towery, as a member of the board of review in Scout work, held a brief court of honor and presented awards to Scouts Johnnie Driskell and William Paul Faver. Johnnie Driskell was awarded a merit badge on fishing, swimming, safety and fireman-ship. Johnnie Driskell is a life Scout, this award being made in Trinity at the last court of honor held there.

William Paul Faver was presented a star award, another step toward being a life Scout, and was also given merit badges in safety, citizenship in the home and basketry.

Staff Sgt. Alvin R. Jimmerson, son of Lion A. R. Jimmerson, was introduced as a guest. Sgt. Jimmerson is home on furlough from the British West Indies for ten days.

The happy birthday song was sung for Marcus Mason and R. L. Barclay Jr., whose birthdays fell on Tuesday's Lions' Club meeting day.

MEET THE "INVISIBLE MEN"

IN YOUR KITCHEN

Dependable natural gas service doesn't "just happen." Back of your gas range is an army of skilled workers engaged in finding, producing and delivering gas, not only for cooking, but for many other uses in the homes and factories of the nation.

Some of the most important "invisible men" in your kitchen are the producers—the men who take the enormous financial risks necessary to drill a well in search of oil and gas.
"Risk?" you say. Only one out of nine exploratory wells drilled in the nation
last year was a producer!
