Just Give Me A Chance To Tell You

By H. H. Milburn.

"Dad-blast!" I would tell for Mr. J. E. Towery's line of talk the other day when he walked up to my desk and said, "She told me you told her what I told you not to tell her," and then he stopped to see how I would take that. Well, naturally, being me, I thought, "Oh, my goodness, I'm done for now! What did I tell that he told me not to tell?"

Then with a twinkle in his eye, he started all over again and finished what he was going to say in the first place like this: "She told me you told her what I told you not to tell her; but I knew you told her not to tell me you told her; so don't tell her I told you she told me."

What a let-down, and was I relieved? That's a tongue-twister, and just because I tried to say it after he did, I couldn't.

Members of the Church Guild of the All Saints Episcopal church have a good time practicing being "good neighbors" and we think the idea they have a charming one. One member deposits a basket filled with delicacies, or a home baked pie, cake, or loaf of bread at the door of a member of the guild, and after two days time, she in turn fills the basket with "something extra nice" and passes it on to another member. In this basket there is a little note attached to the basket, and each recipient of the basket is supposed to deposit an amount of money in it that they think the basket filled with delicacies is worth to them. The basket has been known to contain many lovely things such as home baked pies, cakes, cookies, as picture put up from a favored recipe, or flower bulbs, such as daffodils, Germany lilies, or iris bulbs, or even a pair of new baby shoes for a friend. If the recipient keeps the basket over two days without passing the basket on they are fined ten cents per day until it is filled and passed on to someone else.

The basket is furnishing a way to raise money for a church project, and also serves as a wonderful way to be neighborly.

Alma Laffar has received about getting tickets for the Thanksgiving football game at A. & M. this year that she is already "thinking-up" what she is going to take along in a paper lunch. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rich and children, Charles and Charlotte, and Alma have their tickets and are making plans to attend.

Colthary Lodge.

Industrious service for the Colthary Lodge of Kaskiff were held Saturday night. Approximately 175 people were present for the business and dedication. Worshipful Grand Master John McKee of Dallas gave the dedicatory address.

Members representing all of the lodges of District 23 were present. Eighty Master Masons of Texas met for the opening of the Colthary Lodge. Ceremonies were carried out during the opening of the representation of the Grand Lodge of Texas. Following the dedicatory service, wives of the members were invited to hear Mr. McKee.

FARM INCOME DIPPED 6% BELOW YEAR EARLIER

Washington—During the first eight months of 1953, farmers received about $17.7 billion, 6% less than a year ago, the agriculture department said in its farm income situation report.

Although average prices were down about 10%, the volume of marketing was a little larger. Receipts from livestock were $11 billion, about 7% below the like period of a year ago. Receipts from meat animals were 15% lower than last year. Dairy receipts were 5% lower, but both poultry and egg receipts were 11% higher than the previous year. Crop receipts tumbled to $4.7 billion from January through August, 4% below last year.

The department tentatively estimated farmers' cash receipts in August at $2.7 billion, 4% higher than in July with 7% under August, 1952. Crop receipts in August are estimated at $1.2 billion, 12% more than in July, but 10% under the like period last year.

FORMER RESIDENT BURIED AT DALLAS

Mrs. Howard Anthony, age 74, died at the home of her son, C. O. Anthony, in Kaskiff Tuesday morning at 3 o'clock. She had been a broken hearted, the result of a broken heart.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Anderson Chapel Funeral Home in Menard. Burial was in a Dallas cemetery.

Mrs. Anthony was a native of Grapeland, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Brown, and had lived here most of her life. After the death of her husband two years ago, she moved to Menard to live with her son.

Besides the son, she is survived by three grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. A. H. Laker, Mrs. Jim Ellis and Mrs. H. P. O'Neil of Grapeland, and Mrs. Eva Scarborough of Alto; one brother, J. E. Brown of Grapeland—Grapeland Messenger.

And He Did.

A Crockett young man, overheard reading "The Listener" heard "When Henry the Eighth saw—er—Anne—er—Boleyn, he—er—decided to—er—make her his—er—wife."

Know-Nothing.

On a little service station on the edge of an Arizona desert hangs this sign: "Don't ask us for information. If we know anything we wouldn't be here."

Mr. Millett: "My shaving brush is very stiff. I wonder what the matter with it."
Mrs. Millett: "I don't know. It was nice and soft yesterday when I painted the bird cage with it."

Football fields are called gridirons because the white lines creating the field resemble a gridiron.

THOUGHT WE COULD.

Nor should I fail to note the general dreamers, some of them authentic professing socialists who were from time to time in the interior department. They, like their brethren in Henry Wallace's department of agriculture, were paid for dreaming up things for all of us.

With Kipling they could say: "There we sat in a branching row, Thinking of beautiful things we know; Dreaming of deeds we mean to do, All complete in a minute or two— Something noble and grand and good, Won by merely wishing we could."—Raymond Moley.
