NONAGENARIAN

CELEBRATES 4: 95TH

i. B. Milburn, Commenting.

Poreword: Septemter 20 means a pretty special" date for Mr. James j YA. Foster and on Sunday afternoon, [7] [uncertain] September 20, he was just about the ij [happictt maa] [uncertain] in and around Crockett ae The heaven, of course, being that the j [dohn] [uncertain] IL Foster family [gare] [uncertain] him eo party and if ever [a»] [uncertain] party pleased, It this one topped all of them. Ill begin f at the beginning! And just give me a chance to [tel]] [uncertain] you!

The John [BR.] [uncertain] Foster family honored [Pan] [uncertain] Mr. James M. Foster with s reception Bundsy afternoon, September 20, at the Foster residence st 303 North i [Serenth] [uncertain] street Qn this Bunday afternoon [ocrasion] [uncertain] the Foater home, which has [jong] [uncertain] since been known as the acer of many a" ci lovely affair in the city, was again" [ote] [uncertain] holding open house" to a host of ew friends and again that indefatigable ram i split of happiness and good fetlqwship among their friends was an outstanding characteristic found hers. During the hours from three to tt five, friends called at the huge six-!

[2] [uncertain] teen room Foster residence to extend birthday greetings to [Uncle] [uncertain] Jim"

t; Foster on the occasion of [celebrating'] [uncertain] if bis 95th birthday and the nice 4 things" they said, and the praises they spoke of him, truly [gare] [uncertain] his" H spirits a lift and it made bim as happy ae happy could be. Truly nothing in life does more good for a man than to hare these beat wishes and good will of a hurt of endearing friends! Guests were received at the door, by [Mrs.] [uncertain] Denny [Ariedge] [uncertain] who Into [duced] [uncertain] them to the [honur] [uncertain] guest, Uncle Jim" Foster, and the following mem- [bers] [uncertain] received with him with a [bearty] [uncertain]

M. Heflin, minister of the Firat [Methtt odist] [uncertain] church, acting as master of 4; ceremonies. During the earlier part th [eof] [uncertain] the afternoon, Kev. A. 8. Lee, ay beloved friend of the Foster family

h and a former minister of the First ft Baptist church of this city, offered a [fitng] [uncertain] prayer in behalf of friends ft and In behalf of the life of [thisman]] [uncertain]

3 who hid attained a golden age of ninety fiver. Later, Rev; James Neflin

[4] [uncertain] gave greetings and remarks of [commendstion] [uncertain] concerning Uncle Jims" [eelalion] [uncertain] to the Methodist church for [83] [uncertain] years. [UVirthday] [uncertain] greetings were extended from the city of Crockett by: Mayor T. D. Craddock. All through the afternoon guests enjoyed a pleasing music program

[De whieh] [uncertain] was furnished by the Firt Daptist church, the Presbyterian end Methodist cholera. Each church choir chose songs which they knew [Uncle] [uncertain] dim" took delight in listening to and there [werr vther sclections] [uncertain] furnished for his pleasure, [tov:] [uncertain] among them [belng] [uncertain] the well loved heart songs of bong ago, church song, and spirituals. To name 6 few of the songs, they were: Hush, [Huth, Semebody] [uncertain] Calling My Name," My God and 1." In, a Garden," Swing Law, Sweet [Charii] [uncertain] ot" and Golden Bells." Guests were invited into the dining room where decorations were besutifully Tried out in a chosen color theme of white and gold in floral ar- [langemetita] [uncertain] in the [roum] [uncertain] and on the [tefreshment] [uncertain] table, A lovely arrange- [ment] [uncertain] of large yellow and white mums [sitange] [uncertain] in an attractive bronte con- [tainer] [uncertain] centered the refreshment table

Mrs. Ovie Hailey poured punch at one end of the table. The [Jovely] [uncertain] birthday cake graced the opposite end of the table in a picture-pretty fashion and the follow.ng members of the house party took turns [aecrvng] [uncertain] birthday cake, and other refreshments: Mesdames Robert King, Rey Arleder, [Henry] [uncertain] Elle Se, Travia Moore and

Misa Katy King.

Out of town guests [bere] [uncertain] to honor [Uncle] [uncertain] Jim" Foster on his ninety-fifth birthday were: From [Warco—Mrs.] [uncertain] Tom Foater, Mr and Mrs. W. 8. Fos- [ter,] [uncertain] Mr and Mrs. Jup Pharr, Mr.

pre-sided in lifting the first spade of earth in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new education) [bullding] [uncertain] for the First Methodist burch.

Both old friends and newly acquired friends were present to share in his birthday celebration Sunday, With many of his friends he spent happy torments In recapturing fleeting heart [beatae] [uncertain] of happiness in memorize of yesterday." With others, it was to talk of the kindliness, [unselfishteas,] [uncertain] courage, reverence, [patnotiem] [uncertain] and [pense] [uncertain] of values of the present away and time. Dut beet of al) what actually gladdened Utle [Jims"] [uncertain] heart moat was that [Sunday] [uncertain] afternoon, Beptember 20th was a time that was spent in countless moments of [happinese™] [uncertain] in the good fellowship of his many friends and believe me, friends were there!

To sum Uncle Jim" [Fosters] [uncertain] birthday celebration up, we might add, tn the words of Edgar A. Gurst; People gave this honor [gucst"—that] [uncertain] thrill of success which depends not on money or skill, but the faith of his [rienda.] [uncertain] They gave him that gift which no money can buy,

The warmth of the heart which true friends must supply. They gave him their trust as [sbout] [uncertain] him they sat,

And no triumph in life can be greater than that."

it ia mot often [Unat] [uncertain] the Crockett Courier, together [wth ita] [uncertain] staff, has the honor of congratulating a friend as they mark another mile along the golden [path™] [uncertain] of celebrating birth days but at [thie] [uncertain] time it bs [vur] [uncertain] sincere pleasure to extend hearty congratulations and the very best of beat wishes to Mr. James M. Foster on his [Voth] [uncertain] birthday.

and 14 feet high and mounted slighUy concave. This tee ratio of [spprox-|imately] [uncertain] two lo [ons.] [uncertain]

Ever since the [Renalasanee palaters havé] [uncertain] known that [thia] [uncertain] ratio best suited human [vislon, mang] [uncertain] of the worlds famous paintings were done in [thie] [uncertain] rath. Norms bums vision sans 160 degrees horizontally, hence the new wide screen opens up an entirely new vista of natural vision for the movie patron.

Mr. Dickey went on to explain the other advantages of the new screen, saying that the larger screen presents a far more exciting picture when images and backgrounds [eppear] [uncertain] in mote detail. [Outdoor ecenes,] [uncertain] especially, take on aw grandeur never before, [pesaible] [uncertain] with the [emaller] [uncertain] screen, Too, it has been discovered that with wide, slightly curved screen even the 2 dimension, or flat picture as it is known tn the Industry, takes on 6 [elight Ulusion] [uncertain] of depth or 3-dimenaion when projected on the silent site screen. The theatre Is already equipped with [J-dimension] [uncertain] equipment, and pictures of thla- type on the new screen are truly sensational, [sald] [uncertain] Mr. Dickey.
