EARLY TEXAS COURT KEPT SCANT ORDER

Wayne Card in Dellas News

That new court house in Panola [Suunty] [uncertain] bee every modern [cofrenience,] [uncertain] j including demonstration kitchen and pk quarters for women jurors. It te far cry from some of the crude [cuurt] [uncertain] houses in frontier Texas. And procedure in tia court rooms is far advanced from that which obtained in [1K4l] [uncertain] in what later became [Pancle] [uncertain]

On [tris}] [uncertain] in that year was Charice

W. [Jackson,] [uncertain] a Shelbyville cutthroat who had [hilled] [uncertain] an unarmed man in the preceding year and who, while out on hail, had terrorized the coun- [tryaide] [uncertain] as head of band of ruffians.

He [hed] [uncertain] burned two farm houses in the winter, refusing to allow the women and children to" save even blankets to protect themselves from the cold.

When Jackson rally was brought to trial in Pulaski, on July 16, [1841,/:] [uncertain] his friend, Sheriff Alf [George,] [uncertain] had twenty of Jacksons followers, armed with double-barreled [ahotguns,] [uncertain] pistols and knives, guard the [pmaoner,] [uncertain] The courtroom [wes] [uncertain] crowded with other men, moat of them Jacksons friends down in front of the judge and de-manded [uncertain] trial.

After [apending] [uncertain] most of the day in pocking [a=] [uncertain] jury, Judge Hansford adjourned court for the night. He instructed the sheriff to keep the [prisoner] [uncertain] in close custody. Then the judge left town, and the next morning he failed to appear. [Someone] [uncertain] reported that he had gone to Marshall, saying that he didn't intend to hold [cuurt] [uncertain] by mob.

The judge had left the court clerk a [note] [uncertain] stating that he no longer would act as judge unless he could here [a'] [uncertain] special force for his protection. For the sheriff of [Harrisea] [uncertain] county he had left an order which read:

Being unwilling to risk my person in the court house any [Jonger] [uncertain] where I sit myself surrounded by braves and hired [asesesina,] [uncertain] and no longer [lef?] [uncertain] free to preside as an impartial judge at this [spectal] [uncertain] term of court,

I order you to adjourn the court to-mo [moftew] [uncertain] at [eight] [uncertain] o'clock. From you until the regular term shall expect the prisoner."

On hearing this, [Jacksons] [uncertain] attorney demanded that the trial proceed without the judge. The prosecuting attorney [tertey] [uncertain] refused to introduce his witnesses, but the attorney for the defense made speech to the jury on the right of self-defense. After this plus, the jurors [vuled] [uncertain] to acquit Jackson, and the sheriff set him free.

[Jsrkeon,] [uncertain] involved in the early stages of the feud of the [Regulators] [uncertain] and [Moderators,] [uncertain] was ambushed and killed afterward. Judge Hanaford was called to face impeachment charges which included that of being "repeatedly drunk on the bench and one of arbitrary and unjust penalties. He resigned instead. Before the cast [Texas] [uncertain] disorders ended, he was mysteriously shot and killed.

WILL OF THE [PEOPLE] [uncertain]

[Senator] [uncertain] Styles Bridge had issued herbert on the record of [sppropriathous] [uncertain] of the first session of the [83rd] [uncertain] congress. One part of it deals with [tedortions] [uncertain] in [eppropriations] [uncertain] as compared with the past. And here the senator makes this heartening [statment:] [uncertain]

Keductions were based on the will of the people that further encroachments by government on private-sp, [terprie] [uncertain] were no longer [two] [uncertain] be tolerated, facet in those areas where private enterprise [waa] [uncertain] unable or unwilling to function or where, dictated by [hutiinal] [uncertain] security or national interest, [PrIVALe] [uncertain] enterprise [cuuld] [uncertain] not operate."

We need lot more of that kind of thinking in government today.

department, and la reached by a Might of [atalrs.] [uncertain]

Here office space for Mr. King, and for
Mr. Morrow also, has been pro- [vided] [uncertain] for. The offices overlook the work and activities on the floor.

Tha auto lot facing Houston arenas will shortly undergo Improvements, too. Here the space allotted for gen- [eral] [uncertain] storage [wil] [uncertain] be moved to a lot which faces West Lamar street. When the general storage section is moved

[etewhere,] [uncertain] this will provide for apace of some 100 feet fronting Houston avenue to devotes to the used car lot.

A concrete slab will run the length of the lot, and the two front lines of used care will be sheltered under a protective covered portion of the lot.

An attractive array of Neon [signa]!
pertain[ing] [uncertain] to the used car depart- [ment,] [uncertain] and a permanent type billboard will serve aa additional advertising apace.

Higher Taxzea Not Needed.

Proponenta of higher tares ln other states as w reason for higher taxes in Texas are without argument. The reason that taxes [ars] [uncertain] too high in other stales Ja no reason why they should be higher in Texas. A certain extravagant-minded [preaident,] [uncertain] as a reason tor higher taxes In the United States, said [thal] [uncertain] taxes were higher ia England. Taxes got so high n England that the Bocialleta took ever, [confistaling] [uncertain] the railroads, the light and power lines, the coal mines and many other things. When taxes get so high that the people cannot pay them, [soclalleta] [uncertain] will seize the government by ballot and confiscate all public atili-
