FRATERNITY

The executive council of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity in Dallas, Texas, extended the Crockett editor an invitation to professional membership in that society and requested the editor's presence at an initiation ceremony of new members of the national fraternity in Dallas for last Friday evening. He felt honored at being selected for membership in that society.

The initiation was held at 8:30 p. m. on Friday, October 10, in the English room of the Baker Hotel in Dallas. The event was held earlier than usual to afford those desiring to attend the football game in the Cotton Bowl the opportunity to do so.

Allen Duckworth of the Dallas News is president of the Sigma Delta Chi in Dallas. Frank Langston of the Dallas Times-Herald is vice-president, and Horace Atkinson of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce is secretary.

The following letter from Allen Duckworth, president, came as an appreciated surprise to the Crockett editor: "It is my honor and pleasure to inform you that the Dallas professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi has recommended you for election to membership
