The Dallae News say that the Fast Texas Chamber of Commerce slapped beck at the County Judges" and Commissioners" association that the association raised the chambers ire Wednesday by strongly condemning the chambers demand that Federal [timberlands] [uncertain] be sold to private interest. The News quotes President H. E. Burgess of the East Texas chamber as saying: These grn- tlemcen are pot in [ful] poescesion] [uncertain] ef all the [facta] [uncertain] about the matter." Then tm explanation ef that statement be gore on: [Taxpayers] [uncertain] throughout [Tex-] [uncertain] me are helping to [subsidise] [uncertain] Federal government payments to the eleven east Texas counties that have national forests." [That] [uncertain] imaginary subsidy paid to the east Tezas [countice] [uncertain] ls [25] [uncertain] per cent from the proceeds of the timber" im [liew] [uncertain] of the taxes lost by the counties when these parks became national. ## Crockett Courier — December 10, 1953

In a resolution voted at the closing session of its annual convention at Hotel Adolphus, the association is belated efforts to have the forests sold, those of [scfiah] [uncertain] interests [aceking] [uncertain] these valuable forests for their own use."

A movement to return the forests to private [cwnership] [uncertain] was begun recently [uncertain] by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Involved are the 658,000 acres of timberland within the Angelina, Devy Crockett, Sam Houston and Sabine

National [Forests.] [uncertain]

County Judge Albert K. Daniel of

Houston county, one of the eleven counties in which the forests lie, supported the conventions [ppesslution] [uncertain] from the floor.

These forests constitute the [financla!] [uncertain] lifeblood of these eleven counties," he declared, pointing out that [tbe] [uncertain] counties are paid 25 per cent of the gross receipts from the sale of timber from the [foresta] [uncertain] in [lieu] [uncertain] of taxes.

This allotment amounted to $510,-

Trinity, [Texas After] [uncertain] more than a century of constant use, [Texas timberlands_are] [uncertain] growing [uncertain] wood faster than it is being used.

The statement is made in [2] [uncertain] new report, [Tezas] [uncertain] Forest Facts," now being distributed through the Tezas Forest Industries committee, headed by Paul [FP.] [uncertain] Hursey of Trinity. The committee is composed of woodland owners and representatives of [woodusing] [uncertain] Industries, [Texas] [uncertain] Forest [Facts"] [uncertain] is segment of a new [Forest] [uncertain] Resources handbook which contains complete information on the nation's forest [resoures,] [uncertain] together with [reporta] [uncertain] on the industry-supported Tree Farm and Eep Green programs. Copies are being distributed to newspapers, [radid-TV] [uncertain] stations, writers and wood-using industries of the state.

A growth-drain chart in the book shows Texas is now growing 0464,000,- 000 [cuble] [uncertain] feet of timber per year against a removal of 417,000,000 cubic feet. Sewtimber growth is placed at 1,660,000,000 board feet year against removal of [142780000] [uncertain] board feet. This shows what can be done through wise management of our timberland's," said Mr. Hursey. It points up the fact that timber is actually a crop and [thst] [uncertain] its production must be [encouraged—esprcially] [uncertain] with the [amall] [uncertain] woodlot [owner—if] [uncertain] timber is to keep its great importance in the economy of the state."
